PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE

PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume X, Number 1 December 14, 1987

Scholarship Awarded

The Greater Palm Beach County Data Processing Management Association (DPMA) has selected PBJC student Parke Bloyer to receive a $500 scholarship.

Bloyer was chosen by the DPMA based on his financial need, academic achievement, grade point average, and the fact that he is a full-time student pursuing a degree in a computer science-related program.

This is the first scholarship the DPMA has presented to a PBJC student. "We hope to continue to provide scholarship funds to students of Computer Science at Palm Beach Junior College," said Al Flores, representative of the DPMA.

Roy Snyder from the Greater Palm Beach County DPMA presents PBJC Student Parke Bloyer with a $500 scholarship.

Fall Commencement Is Friday

Approximately 275 of the over 400 graduates of PBJC for Fall Term are expected to cross the stage at Commencement Exercises on Friday, December 18 at 8 p.m. in the Gymnasium.

The featured speaker will be Representative Frank Messersmith. He is currently serving his fourth consecutive term in the State House of Representatives. He represents District 85.

The PBJC graduates will be awarded Associate in Arts (AA) and Associate in Science (AS) degrees. With the AA degree, students may transfer credits to a four-year institution. The AS program provides a two-year occupational degree.

Two Trustees Confirmed

Two new Palm Beach Junior College Trustees were officially confirmed earlier this month by Governor Bob Martinez and the Cabinet. The appointees, Bettye King of West Palm Beach and Don Reed of Boca Raton, are both attorneys.

All appointments to the five-member Board of Trustees have now been offically filled. The other three Board members are Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau, Chairman; Dolly Hand; and Dr. Bernard Kimmel.

The next meeting of the Board will be Wednesday, December 16 at 7:30 p.m.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:
Volume X, Number 2 December 21, 1987

Scholarship To Honor Kennard And Rhoden

A special scholarship fund has been established in honor of the late Gregory Kennard and Randall "Rick" Rhoden. The two young men were starting pitchers on the PBJC Baseball team.

On December 9, their car was struck head on by another vehicle. The driver of the other car was charged with DUI. Kennard and Rhoden died as a result of injuries suffered in the automobile accident.

A memorial service was held on Monday at PBJC's Duncan Theatre. Several hundred mourners attended.

In the message given by Dr. Eissey, the two were eulogized as model students and outstanding young men.

"These two young men will not have died in vain, if we will dedicate ourselves to fulfill their unfinished dreams," Eissey reflected.

Gregory Kennard, 18, graduated from John I. Leonard High School in Lake Worth. He had been drafted by the Montreal Expos.

Randall "Rick" Rhoden, also 18, attended John Carroll High School in Fort Pierce. He, too, was a prospect for draft by a professional baseball team.

Both were attending PBJC on baseball scholarships. In their memory, team members and Coach Randy Gailey will be wearing a special patch on PBJC baseball uniforms.

Report On PECO Funding Given To Trustees

During the December 16 Meeting of the Board of Trustees, Dr. Eissey gave a report on Public Education Capital Outlay (PECO) funds. He said that the State Appropriations Committee had informed the community colleges that only 25 percent of the present level of PECO funding will be available for the coming year.

This is due to lower collections of taxes that go toward PECO. Automobile license fees and utility taxes will not be bringing in the same amounts of money as in the past.

Only $15.8 million in PECO funds is to be shared by Florida's 28 Community Colleges. Currently, $700 million in statewide unmet needs for capital outlay exists.

"We are not in a crisis at Palm Beach Junior College as it relates to PECO funding; we are attending a funeral!" Eissey told the Board members.

"We have been advised that any construction projects not already begun are canceled. For buildings that might be completed, there will be no funds for equipment," he said.

Funding appropriated in the past is no longer available. It is probable that it will be 1990-91 before PBJC can anticipate approval for funding any projects not now under construction.

In addition, the repeal of the Services Tax may also bring a funding shortfall to community colleges.

The state legislature will have to find other sources of revenue to fund the difference between the income that was budgeted from the Services Tax and the lower income that will result from the One Cent Sales Tax.

"At PBJC, we cannot continue the present level of growth without the necessary funding," Eissey reported. The unmet needs for new construction at the three satellite campuses are especially critical as is the need for updated equipment at all campuses.

The Board approved Dr. Eissey's recommendation that a special in-depth study be made of possible program cuts if the shortfall becomes reality. The study will consider cuts of high-cost programs as well as programs which are not self-supporting. It will also set limits for the number of students that PBJC should accept due to lack of sufficent classrooms and equipment.

Dr. Bernard Kimmel, Board Member, commented that the approval is only a contingency plan. He stressed, "This doesn't necessarily mean that we will automatically cut programs."

Dr. Eissey indicated that the study will prepare the college for handling a shortfall in an organized, planned way.

The Board Meeting included an official welcome to the newest Board member, Bettye King. She, along with Don Reed, will be honored at a special reception on January 20.

In other business, the Board received a Certificate of Commendation from the Mental Health Association. The award was the result of the many services PBJC provides that benefit mental health.

The next Board Meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, January 20, 1988 at 7:30 p.m.

Project Literacy Committee

The Project Literacy Committee at PBJC North, along with other Community Interest Groups, is organizing a Literacy Plan for Palm Beach County.

Project Literacy United States (PLUS) is a national effort to match tutors with adults who are unable to read and write.

The North Campus Committee consists of Joanne Connolly, Freddie Jefferson, Bob Moss, Ottis Smith and Dorothy Witherspoon. They are working with representatives from Palm Beach County Government, the School Board, the County Library System and the Private Industry Council on a plan for providing literacy to those who need the service.

The Literacy Plan is required by law. The Plan will cover a countywide effort which will include the details of how the program will serve the community.

Don't Wait!

Openings are still available for South Florida Fair Booth volunteers. The Fair opens January 18 and closes on January 31. Several shifts are still open, so register early and reserve your choice of times.

Admission tickets will be given to all volunteers. Orientation for booth volunteers will be held on Thursday, January 14 at 2 p.m. in Conference Room C. To volunteer, call Debra McCray at 8054 before Friday, January 8.

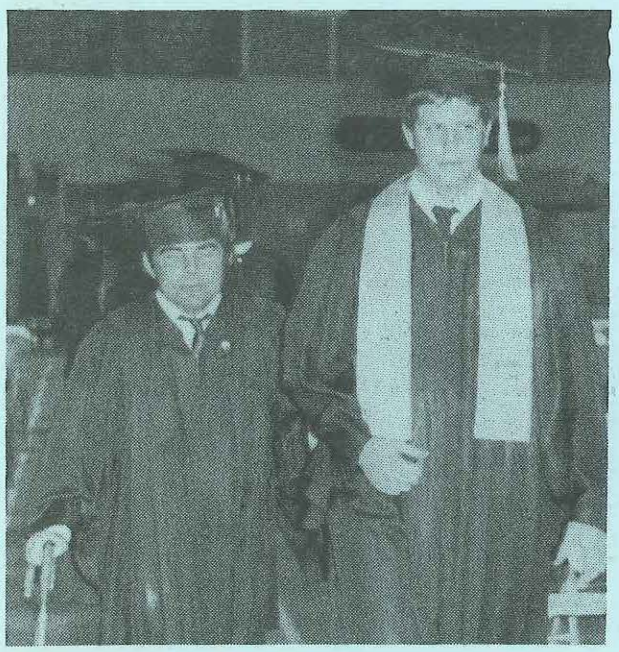
The PBJC Brass Ensemble provided the music during graduation ceremonies.

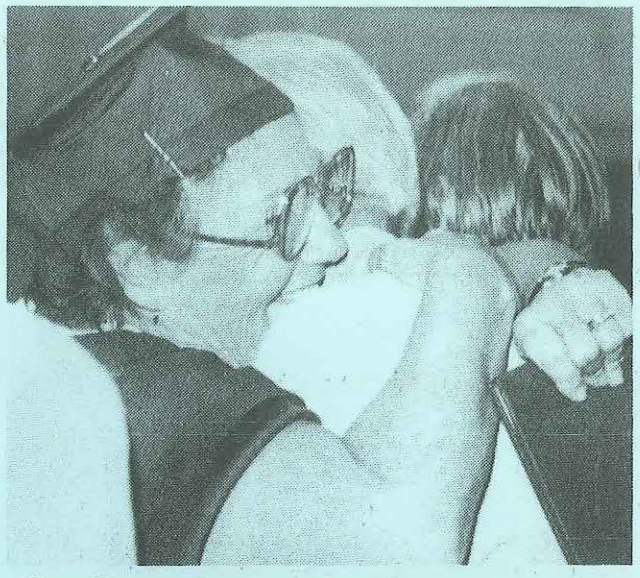
The commencement speaker was Representative Frank Messersmith. He reminisced about his commencement ceremonies and the changes he had experienced since then.

"Your opportunities are vast, but every opportunity requires a significant effort on your part, Messersmith told the graduates. "It isn't luck but hard work that will gain you entry through the doors of opportunity."

Of those students graduating, Alan Caullett received a degree in data processing. Alan overcame his handicap of being blind and completed the degree. He is now seeking a job in the field of data processing.



Alan Caullett and Thomas Graham Carver were among the students receiving degrees.

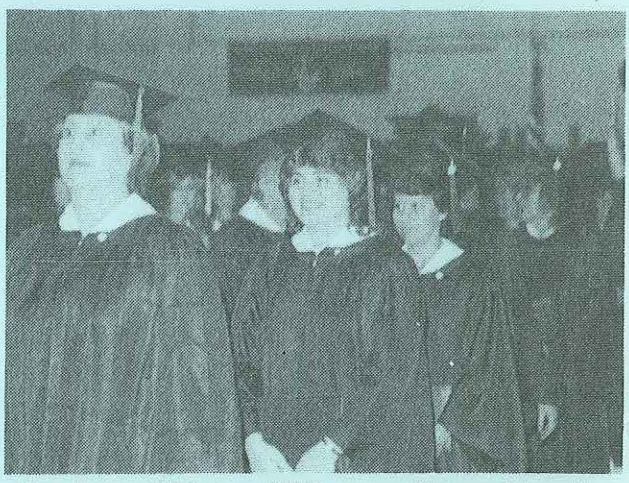


Sara Smartt expresses her delight upon completing her degree at PBJC.

Sara Smartt, a 66 year old grandmother of three, also received a degree. She majored in psychology and plans to continue her education at Florida Atlantic University. Smartt is currently a library assistant at the PBJC North Library.

In addition, a mother and daughter received their degrees earned in the Nursing Program. Kristeen Milligan and Sandra Milligan attended classes at PBJC together. They studied together and now have graduated together.

Palm Beach Junior College began awarding degrees in 1935. Today, students receive Associate in Arts and Associate in Science degrees. About 45 percent of PBJC's graduates go on to a four-year institution.



Sandra and Kristeen Milligan, mother and daughter, are all smiles as they line up for the graduation processional.

Pacesetters Set All-College Dance

In a continuing effort to raise awareness and funds for the PBJC Pacesetters performance trip to International World Expo '88 in Australia, the group is working on the All-College Dance.

The Dance is set for January 26 in the Central Campus Gymnasium from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight. Volunteers are needed to decorate the gym, sell tickets, help clean up the gym and distribute posters and flyers. Donations of food, decorations, vending machines, prizes, a sound system and printed promotional materials are still needed.

All contributions toward the All-College Dance would be greatly appreciated by the Pacesetters and other participants in the event. Tickets sell for $5. For more information, call 8142 or 8219.

If anyone wishes to make a donation toward the Pacesetters trip, tax deductible checks may be made payable to the PBJC Pacesetters and earmarked "For Australian Trip." Any check or cash donations may be given to Hugh Albee, Reuben Hale, or Pat Johnson.

The Pacesetters perform during the All College Meeting on December 18 at the Duncan Theatre.

All College Meeting

Almost 500 employees attended the All College Meeting held in the Duncan Theatre on Friday, December 18. The program featured a Brain Bowl, the Pacesetters, door prizes and Service Recognition Awards.

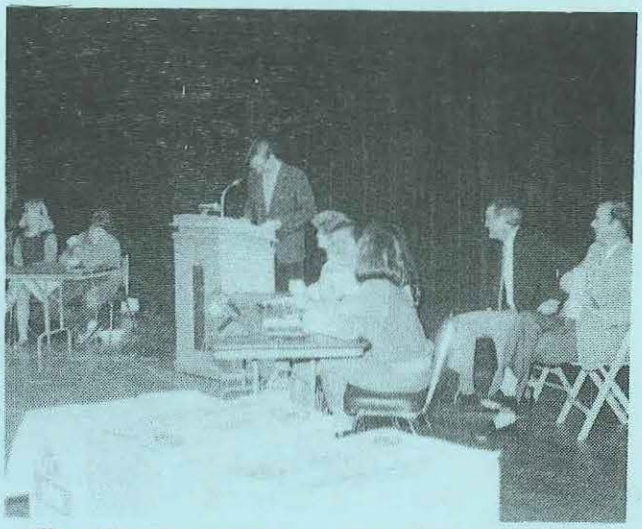
The Brain Bowl opened the meeting. Dr. Sandi Richmond explained that the demonstration was of an actual contest and all participants were PBJC students.

Patricia Adams-Johnson then introduced the Pacesetters. She also talked about the group's plans for their appearance in Australia. Donations are still being accepted to help the students with traveling expenses.

Dr. Eissey announced that for the first time, the College would recognize staff members that have worked at PBJC for 20 years or more. A total of 58 people had 1,363 cumulative years of service to PBJC.

When Watson B. Duncan, III was called to the stage for his award for 39 years of service, the audience gave him a standing ovation. Dr. Eissey handed Duncan the plaque while on bended knee.

Dr. Eissey, on bended knee, presents Watson B. Duncan, III with an award for 39 years of service to PBJC. The awards were presented with the assistance of Dr. Elisabeth Erling and Joe Schneider.



Allen Hamlin serves as moderator for the two PBJC Brain Bowl teams as they practice for competition.

Seven recipients of the Service Recognition Awards were not able to attend and accept their plaques at the meeting. They are as follows:

Hal D. Foster, 20 years; Delores Seemayer, 21 years; Idella B. Wade, 22 years; L. Rayburn Daugherty, 22 years; Otis P. Harvey, 27 years; James C. Houser, Jr., 27 years; and Robert L. Batson, 29 years.

After the Service Recognition Awards, FACC members announced the new officers for 1988-89. They are: Jeanette Sanders, President; Sandi Richmond, Vice President; Ardease Johnson, Secretary; and Mary Taylor, Treasurer.

Glen Marsteller, Past President, mentioned that FACC's most successful fund-raising event was a performance by the Senior Players.

Dr. Eissey ended the program with some kind words about his years at PBJC and the people that make up the College family. He spoke of the recent deaths of those close to PBJC.

"Thank you for allowing me to be with you these past 12 years," Dr. Eissey said in closing.

The drawing for prizes brought oohs and aahs over gifts that included cruises, brunches, homemade goodies, shower watches (which brought laughter), gyms-in-bags and auto compasses.

Pharmacy Discounts

Under our health plans, a select number of pharmacies have provided up to a 30-day supply of a prescription drug for a $3 co-payment. This arrangement was applicable both to those personnel under the Gulfstream (HMO) Plan and those personnel using the PPO under the other Equicor Plan.

The list of available pharmacies included certain Eckerd Drug Stores.

We recently were told that effective January 1, 1988, the contracts for discounts at Eckerd Drugs had been terminated and replaced with Walgreens. In the future, individual prescription drugs for those personnel using the HMO or PPO may be purchased at any Walgreen Drug Stores in Palm Beach or Broward County for the $3 per drug co-payment.

There is no change in the other contracted pharmacies which are listed below:

Michener, who has written numerous best sellers including South Pacific, Centennial, Hawaii, The Source, Texas, and Legacy, credits his success to two things. A great education combined with good luck are his keys to success.

As a child, he lived in an impoverished environment and he never knew his parents. As he grew older, he became good at sports and did well in school.

He said, "I benefited from the American System which rewards hard work. From age 14 on, my life was easy because of the many scholarships I received."

Michener told the audience that he had attended nine universities on scholarship. He said, "Society has invested much in me." He revealed that the benefit had also been returned to society in the form of over $100 million in taxes from his projects.

Michener acknowledged that he has had great luck. He said that there have been many writers who are better than he is, but they have not been successful.

"I would not like to guess what kind of man I might be now without good luck!" he said.

Michener, who published his first book at the age of 40, also reviewed his strategies for writing.

He usually lives in the location that he selects for the book. He relies heavily on research from reading related documents on the area and its people.

Each book is first organized by big segments so that he knows what must be covered. Then a single-page outline is prepared for each chapter.

He writes for four hours every morning, and each book takes about three years to complete.

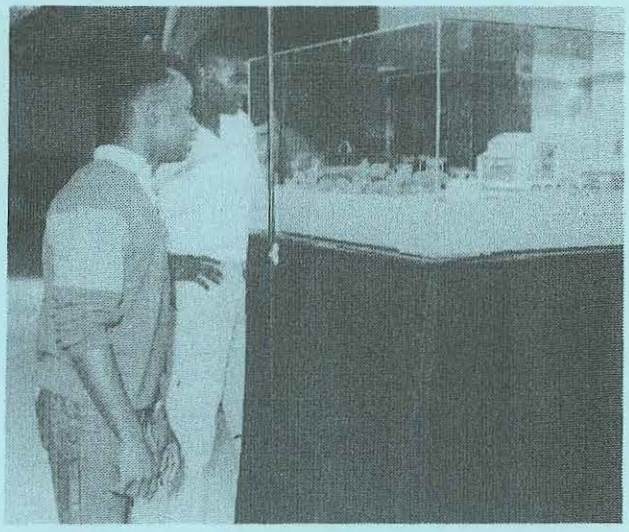
When he finishes his research and completes the first draft of the book, a secretary then places the text on a word processor. The copy is edited and revised at least four or five times.

"When I begin a book, I never know how it will turn out," he said. "It is also impossible to know what the public will take to heart about a book."

The program was arranged by Dr. J Paul Shelton. Dr. Shelton, who is a close friend of James A. Michener, has been an active supporter of PBJC since the 1960's. He has donated a complete set of Michener's works to the College.

Alice Zacherl, North Campus Library Director, presented a plaque honoring Michener. It is to become part of the Michener collection which is exhibited on the North Campus Library.

Freddie Jefferson, Division II Chairman at North Campus, gave "A Teacher's Review of Michener." She said he was a man of extraordinary merit who exemplified the best of what education can provide.



PBJC students Shonnh Joseph and Anthony Howard were among the visitors to the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts display in the SAC Lounge last week.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:
Volume X, Number 6 February 1, 1988

A Model Of Leadership And Action

The Raymond F. Kravis Center

Last week, the architectural drawings and models of the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts were on display in the Student Activities Lounge at the Central Campus. The display brought to mind the efforts of the many people who have worked to make the Center a reality.

Palm Beach Junior College has traditionally been interested and active in the performing arts. For many years, College officials supported the development of proper facilities for cultural productions and general entertainment.

Such a facility would also be a tremendous advantage for PBJC students to learn about the performing arts field, first hand. With this purpose in mind, Dr. Edward M. Eissey, President of Palm Beach Junior College, spearheaded efforts to make the Performing Arts Center a reality.

As early as 1978, Eissey was busy contacting interested groups with the suggestion that PBJC could provide property and management for the Center. This was at a time when no one seemed to agree on a suitable location.

In 1980, Eissey asked leaders in the arts community to reconsider placing the Center on PBJC property.

PBJC Trustees gave official approval on August 19, 1981, to offer property and management for the Performing Arts Center. Members of the Palm Beach Junior College Board of Trustees at that time were Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau, Mrs. Homer J. Hand, Willard Findling, George A. Michael, and Mrs. Hisetta Dyson.

The location suggested included land overlooking Lake Osborne on the Central Campus. The site was accessible for construction of access roads from 6th Avenue South and from Lake Worth Road.

Eissey actively negotiated with the county to obtain property in John Prince Park to use as the site for the Center. In June of 1984, the Palm Beach County Commission approved a resolution which deeded the property to PBJC. The land was valued at $1.3 million.

The County Commission also approved $10 million in matching funds for use in construction of the Center. Palm Beach County Commissioners at that time were Ken Spillias, Peggy B. Evatt, Dennis P. Koehler, Dorothy Wilken, and Bill Bailey.

With local funds of over $10 million in hand, Eissey quickly approached the State Legislature for additional funding. In June of 1984, Eissey with the the untiring help of Senator Harry Johnston successfully negotiated $10 million of state appropriations in the form of matching funds.

Following the successful request for funds, Eissey said, "We have been planning a cultural arts center in Palm Beach County for 25 years. It is time we stopped talking and started some action."

He said the Center will become a reality when a location is agreed upon. The ideal site was PBJC, according to Eissey and the Palm Beach Junior College Trustees.

The site offered not only a central location but also easy access, attractive views, and a good mix of educational resources and funding sources.

The selection of PBJC as the location was supported by resolutions from the Palm Beach County Commission, the Palm Beach Council of the Arts, the 37 municipalities, and many community groups. Site visits and aerial tours were provided to interested groups to evaluate the site.

Following the enormous show of community support for the PBJC location, Alex Dreyfoos joined the efforts of Eissey.

Dreyfoos agreed to raise the next $15 million from private sources. Eissey and Dreyfoos became co-founders of the Performing Arts Project.

Palm Beach Junior College is the official owner of the 10.29 acres of land as well as the Performing Arts Center Building.

The oversite of Center planning and construction is provided by the present PBJC Board of Trustees which includes Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau, Mrs. Homer J. Hand, Dr. Bernard Kimmel, Ms. Bettye J. King, and Donald H. Reed, Jr.

The facility will be managed through the Palm Beach County Center for the Arts, Inc., which is a community-based, non-profit organization.

The successful acquisition of funds for the Center is a model of cooperation. The College, the County, the State Legislature, private businesses, and citizens have all provided leadership, and resources needed to reach this important goal.

Annual Drama Festival

Four area high schools participated in the 14th Annual Drama Festival held at Palm Beach Junior College, January 28 and 29. Several schools were forced to cancel their entries due to sickness or conflicting schedules, according to Festival Director, Frank Leahy.

High school students from Santaluces, Lake Worth, Cardinal Newman, John I. Leonard and the Palm Beach Junior College Players took the stage for a day of performances and fun.

Dan Henderson was the guest critic for the Festival, which was sponsored by the PBJC Division of Humanities and the Department of Theatre Arts.

The two best productions for 1988 were "Bad Night at Festival Playhouse" performed by Santaluces High School students, and "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," performed by Lake Worth High School students.

The PBJC Players joined four area high schools at the Annual Drama Festival held at the Duncan Theatre, January 28-29.

Data Processing Update

The Data Processing Department has recently made several major changes. The changes have focused on increasing the capabilities of the College's main frame computer and decreasing response time.

The large computer on Central Campus, an IBM 4381, is the host computer. The host computer serves a large number of students and staff, who are called users. Terminals, printers and other devices are connected to the computer by direct cables and/or telephone lines.

The host computer concurrently handles requests from hundreds of terminal users. It can instantly access vast amounts of information stored in our data banks.

PBJC's over 300 terminal devices can access an enormous amount of data equal to the population of the United States. This access method is called on-line processing.

Batch processing is another method of providing information to users. This method is usually in the form of a report or printout. Although batch provides the user with much more data, it is usually easier for the computer to perform than on-line tasks. Batch is more predictable than on-line requests.

Previously, computers could only do batch processing. However, most computer users began to place an emphasis on instant retrieval of data; thus, on-line processing was born.

The demand for on-line processing brought with it a new computer tool called operating software or systems software.

This software directs the internal activities of the computer and increases processing capability. When one task is finished, the operation system software moves to the next task. If several tasks are waiting, the operating software anticipates which tasks can be quickly finished.

PBJC's computer center has been using an operating software product called DOS (disk operating system). As the College grew, the computer was divided into several small computers, each with its own DOS. Finally, there were too many DOS's for the computer to handle.

Eighteen months ago, the College converted to a new operating system called "MVX/XA" or multiple virtual storage/extended. This software makes the computer look at itself as bigger than it really is. It was designed with the on-line user in mind, and also gives us additional reliability, availability, and security.

With the added capability, PBJC will connect the computer to the Florida Information Resource Network (FIRN) before April 1988. All school districts, community colleges and universities are mandated to connect to this network primarily for electronic data exchange, such as state reports, student transcripts, etc.

The gradual conversion was completed last week. The task which usually requires four-to-six full-time staff was accomplished by only two persons.

"The efforts of David Frech and Bob Evelyn are very appreciated," said Jack Kelly, Director of Data Processing. "Much of the work was done after normal duty hours, weekends and holidays.

"The entire DP staff is to be commended for their work on the conversion, in addition to the successful implementation of a new payroll/ personnel system, a new automated library system, and a comprehensive student degree audit system," said Dr. Elisabeth Erling, Vice President of Planning and Information Systems.

A best actor and best actress overall award was given to Robert Massy from Cardinal Newman, and Kelley Barraclough from Santaluces. An award was also given to the best actor or actress from each production.

The Festival format requires each high school to present a one-act play. Following each production, the guest critic gives an oral critique of the performance.

The winning productions were presented last Friday evening at the Duncan Theatre.

Project Literacy

Representatives from PBJC, the Palm Beach County School Board, the Private Industry Council, and the Palm Beach County Library System are working together to provide tutor training at the College.

The tutor training is part of the PLUS (Project Literacy United States) program, a national campaign to provide tutors to adults who cannot read.

A representative from each campus will be trained at a tutor training workshop offered through the Palm Beach County Library. Eventually, they will become certified trainers.

After the initial 3-1/2 hour course, tutor-trainees can teach others to train PBJC staff and students as volunteers. The students are then matched with people needing help with basic reading skills.

The PLUS committee has set April as the goal for the College to begin training tutors. At this point, one person (preferably a full-time faculty or staff member) is needed from each campus to take the workshop at the Palm Beach County Library in March.

For more information, or to volunteer as the first PLUS tutor trainer from your campus, please call Joan Holcomb or Dr. Smith at North Campus, 622-2440, Jim Tanner at South, 6-2216, Mary Orsenigo at Glades, 8160, or Eileen Lintz at Central, 8164 or 8048.

FSU Thanks PBJC For Hospitality

Florida State University President, Dr. Bernard Sliger and several University officials visited Palm Beach Junior College for an articulation meeting in the President's Dining Room, Thursday, January 21.

Representatives from FSU met with PBJC faculty to discuss ideas and make suggestions to improve the transfer process for PBJC students to Florida State.

The meeting was an honor for PBJC as it is not often a University President visits a Community College to better communication between the two.

Following the articulation meeting, Dr. Fanchon F. Funk, Director of Special Programs, Community College and Inter-institutional Relations, sent a letter of appreciation to Dr. Eissey.

Dr. Funk especially thanked Dr. Dyer for her support in making the meeting between FSU and PBJC representatives successful.

"As we look ahead to the 1988-89 academic year, we do so with renewed commitment to seeking ways to ensure that each of your students, while enrolled at Florida State University, will have every opportunity to become all that he or she can become," Funk stated. She also wrote that the people from FSU look forward to future visits and thanked PBJC for the warm reception.

Board Meets At Glades

During the February 17 Meeting of the Board of Trustees, the results of an enrollment survey were presented. Dr. Esther Berry reviewed the survey.

Three students from Dr. Berry's class prepared the survey and completed the analysis of fluctuation of enrollment on the Glades Campus.

Of the 200 students who responded, most had heard about PBJC through high school resources, on-the-job information, or from a friend.

According to the survey, many of the Glades students work full-time and have one or more dependents. These are factors that prevent the student from enrolling in day classes.

Comments from the survey included ideas for flex-class scheduling, shorter terms, and reduced tuition costs.

Survey responses suggested that faculty need to be more involved in community activities. They need to be an active part of recruitment and outreach.

"Whatever suggestions that the students made should be included in planning," said Dr. Berry.

In other appearances before the Board, Dr. John Phillips reviewed the results of his sabbatical leave. In addition, Mr. Oscar Shackelford gave a report on his nine-day industry visit.

As part of the Board agenda, Trustees approved a special prequalification form for contractors who bid on the Performing Arts Center.

The next Board Meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 16 on Central Campus.

Gourmet Luncheon

The Hospitality Department is sponsoring a gourmet luncheon in the President's Dining Room on March 1 at 11:50 a.m.

Rep. Dan Mica (shown left) officially announced plans to run for the U.S. Senate on Tuesday, Feb. 16 in the Student Activities Center at Central Campus. Shown shaking hands with Mica is former Rep. Paul Rogers. Mica said he chose PBJC to announce his candidacy because colleges and universities represent the future of Florida.

Dr. Edward M. Eissey presents North Campus Volunteer, Dorothy Cutts, with a Certificate of Appreciation at a reception held on Thursday, February 11.

Joan Holcomb, CPI Lab Program Manager, Dr. Ottis Smith, PBJC North Provost and Dr. Eissey spoke at the ceremony and praised the work of the volunteers. The reception was part of the statewide School Volunteer Appreciation Week promotion.

The Alumni Association invests the donation and state matching funds.

The first scholarships will be awarded to students from each of the four PBJC campuses in the Fall of 1989.

Former Dean of Students, Paul J. Glynn, accepted the donation for Palm Beach Junior College. Glynn is the Chairman of the new scholarship program for the PBJC Alumni Association.

"I've seen students come and go in my 35 years as Dean, and in my opinion, everyone at PBJC can benefit from this program," Glynn said. "They may need money for school, or they may need work experience. The work-study program, and this donation, will be put to good use."

Glynn-Stone Grant

Applications for the Glynn-Stone Grant are now available in the PBJC Development Office at Central Campus.

During the past two years, over $20,000 has been given to students to encourage them to finish their education at PBJC. Since the program began 24 years ago, more than $100,000 has been given to PBJC students to help finance their education.

The program is under the direction of Dean Paul J. Glynn, assisted by faculty committee members Howard Evans, Don Busselle and Ed Pugh.

Application deadline is April 1, 1988, and applications should be sent to Nancy Horvath in the Development Office. For more information, call 8072.

Health Screening Test

There will be an ongoing Colorectal Cancer Screening Test sponsored by the PBJC Clinic and the American Cancer Society of Palm Beach County.

Employees 40 and over can participate in the Colorectal Hemoccult II Screening. The screening kit, which includes instructions, can be picked up at the Student Health Clinic, Monday-Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

For additional information, please call Mary Cannon, College Nurse, at 8066.

Women's History Month

There will be a special program to commemorate Women's History Month on March 8, International Women's History Day.

Dr. Caryn McTighe Musil, National Director of the National Women's Studies Association, will be speaking on "Women and Education: Who Needs Them?" She will be focusing on the significant contributions women make to solve the common crises facing us nationally and internationally in the future.

The program will be held in the Allied Health Auditorium at 9 a.m.

Former Students Making It Big

Several production directors, TV camera operators, and a former producer for WPEC Channel 12 television recently visited the Television Production Class taught by instructor, Art Musto.

The current and previous employees of Channel 12 visited the class and shared their experiences in the television business since completing the same course at PBJC.

The students asked questions about prerecorded displays, news broadcasts and the specific duties of each person behind the camera.

Many former PBJC students have gone on to work in the entertainment industry. In addition, several have been successful in a variety of areas within the field, Musto added.

"Several students have achieved great success after studying at PBJC. Many are well-known for their talents on a national level," Musto said.

He cited several examples of successful former students: Danny White was awarded a nationally known Emmy Award for video editing of an NBC Special, plus Bryan Conway and John Bosland are members of the Saturday Night Live production crew.

He also said that recent host of Saturday Night Live, and film actor Judge Reinhold of Beverly Hills Cop I & II, and Ruthless People attended PBJC.

In addition, there are many students working as actors and technicians in a number of local and national commercials and industrial films.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:
Volume X, Number 13 March 21, 1988

They Said It Couldn't Be Done

Results of a recent survey of services provided by the Word Processing Center indicate that the Center is a success.

Of the 348 surveys sent to administrators, full-time and adjunct faculty on Central Campus, 180 persons responded. Questions on quality of service were rated in terms of "Always Received," "Often Received," or "Never Received."

In rating the friendliness and helpfulness of the clerks, 156 rated the service as "Always." The rating of reproduction completed when requested resulted in 154 "Always" responses. Only one "Never" response was received.

In the comments received as part of the survey, the respondents suggested improvements that might be made. The suggestion to decrease down time by using a back-up copier has already been implemented.

Most of the comments were very complimentary and showed a high level of satisfaction with services provided.

Sample remarks included: "Impressed with high quality of work," "The introduction of WPC is a step forward," "Always perfect," and "Pleased with the quality of work from WPC."

The Center, which opened in July of 1986, changed the way clerical support was provided to faculty and administrators.

One comment summed up the success of the Word Processing Center in saying "Surprised the system could work, but it did."

Board Views Video

During the Board of Trustees Meeting held Wednesday, March 16, 1988, a new video produced by the PBJC Foundation was previewed.

According the Nancy Cherry, Director of the Foundation, the video is intended for use as a tool to enlist financial and alumni support. Cherry said that several copies are available for use on all campuses.

The contents give an excellent overview of PBJC's programs and services as well as the importance of the College to the community.

Board members complimented the production saying it was a very professional representation of PBJC.

In other appearances before the Board, Hamid Faquire, Athletic Director, presented the Runners-Up Trophy won by the Women's Basketball Team during the recent State playoffs.

Faquire praised the team for exceptional accomplishments as a first year team.

Sally Smith, Coach of the Women's Team, introduced the players and assistant coaches. She gave them credit for the successful year.

In other business, Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau, Board Chairman, gave a report on the Trustee Chairpersons Meeting held February 25-26, 1988 in Tallahassee. He said that much of the discussion centered on long-range planning for colleges.

In addition, Dr. Lichtblau related comments about Dr. Eissey's excellent reputation, statewide. "Our President is known across Florida as an able, dedicated advocate of education," he said.

In other Board appearances, two Central Campus faculty members gave reports of industry visits. Vincent Betz gained insight into technical writing at Pratt & Whitney, IBM, and Motorola. Ethel Fowler investigated current nutritional practices at three area hospitals.

PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Headstart Kids Thank PBJC

Approximately 30 children from the Headstart Program visited PBJC on March 17. They came to thank PBJC's dental hygienist students and faculty for their dental checkups.

The children represented more than 550 Headstart kids who received preliminary dental examinations last year. The PBJC service helped to save the Headstart Program about $8,250 in dental care costs.

To show their appreciation, the children presented a skit on good dental health care, sang a song and spoke about good foods for healthy teeth.

Following the entertainment, the Headstart Director Shirley Walker presented certificates of appreciation to Dr. Jim Flatley, Nancy MacPherson and several dental students.

Retention Of Minorities

Dr. Lester Brown, Guest Consultant, held workshops on Central Campus last Tuesday to address needs of minority, particularly Afro-American, students.

Recruitment and retention were related to the responsibilities of all PBJC staff and faculty. Dr. Brown said that we must all work to provide the support services and attitudes that are essential for minorities to be successful at PBJC.

As part of the support system, minority students need reading programs as well as developmental programs. They also need adequate financial aid.

It is important for faculty to be sensitive to the cultural differences that students bring to the classroom. Understanding is created through interaction with the Black Community.

He said that it is critical to develop relationships with the Black Church Community as he considers the church to be the most important institution to Blacks.

In addition, the four major Black Women's Sororities are influential leaders in the Black Community. They can be very helpful in carrying PBJC's message to minorities.

Dr. Brown also spoke of the need for a management system that enhances the enrollment of minorities. He related many basic leadership and planning skills to management of the college.

He spoke of the importance of administrators clearly conveying performance standards to employees. Everyone must know what is expected.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:
Volume X, Number 15 April 4, 1988

Brigadier General Soper Visits PBJC

Last Wednesday, the Introduction to Business Class on Central Campus heard a presentation by Brigadier General W. John Soper. General Soper, an alumnus of PBJC, shared his management insights with the class.

General Soper said that the College has changed greatly from the facilities at Lake Park where he attended in 1953. He complimented the progress by saying, "Today's PBJC students are really lucky to have such a fine school."

Following his one year at PBJC, General Soper went to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. He received his bachelor's degree in military science in 1958 and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force.

His numerous military assignments have included serving as a pilot in Vietnam. He was promoted to Brigadier General in 1985. Presently, General Soper is serving as Vice Commander of the San Antonio Air Logistics Center, Air Force Logistics Command at Kelly Air Force Base in Texas.

In his presentation to the PBJC class, General Soper compared differences and similarities between civilian industry and the Air Force.

He defined the work of the Air Force as a service with the bottom line of readiness to defend the country. The main management concerns revolve around the use of resources, particularly of people and money.

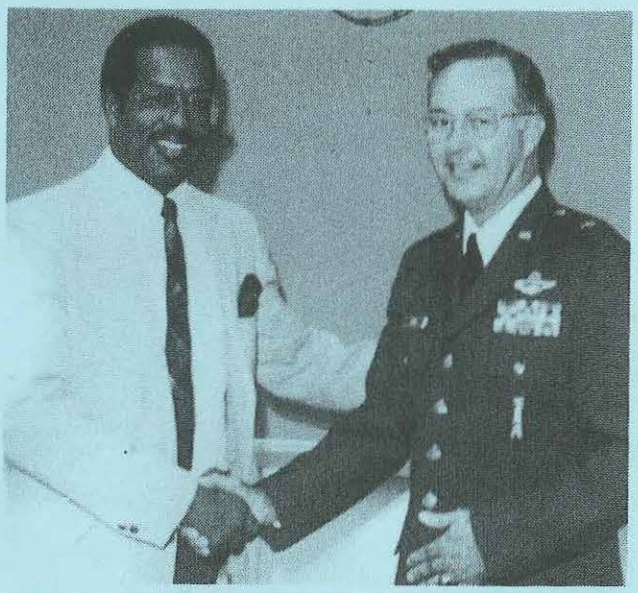
"Getting and keeping good people are the most important parts of what we do," General Soper said. "We work hard to recruit and train quality people."

He mentioned that most recruits join at 17 or 18 years of age and are relatively unskilled. The Air Force provides an immense amount of training for its people. Leaders are developed through the ranks.

He said that the work force of the Air Force is relatively young with 50 percent under 25 years of age. Most recruits serve just the basic four-year tour of duty with pilots serving a minimum of seven years. Career military are allowed to serve up to a maximum of 30 years.

When asked by a PBJC student why he chose an Air Force career, General Soper revealed it was because he wanted to learn to fly. He said he has never regretted that choice.

The presentation provided an interesting management sideline for the students in Herman Pride's class. The visit also allowed the students to meet a former PBJC student who went on to great success in his chosen field.



Instructor Herman Pride thanks General Soper for visiting the Introduction to Business Class.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:
Volume X, Number 16 April 11, 1988

South Campus Honor Students Number One In Nation

The South Campus Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa (PTK), a Junior College Honor Society, was selected from over 800 other organizations as the national recipient of the 1988 Chapter Milestone Award.

The award is given based on an annual report which each Community College PTK Chapter is required to submit. The report details the activities of each chapter and their progress in the community.

Beverly Raznoff, Chapter Advisor, said of the Milestone Award, "It represents a lot of hard work. When we found that we had been selected, we were stunned, and then we were very proud."

She noted that many other colleges, state and nationwide, have larger memberships and more resources than her students have had. "This made the award and the recognition even more meaningful," she added.

Several PTK members along with Raznoff presented the award to Dr. Eissey on Tuesday, April 5. Dr. Eissey responded by saying, "This is what Palm Beach Junior College is all about. I am especially proud of each and everyone of you, not just for the award, but for the community service, and the educational example to others that you represent."

New Tourism Program

A new program in Hospitality Management has been developed by Palm Beach Junior College and the Palm Beach County Convention and Visitors Bureau (CVB).

The program offers an internship of eight hours per week during a 16-week semester. The internship provides partial course credit.

Work is performed in the areas of convention, tour and travel, and public relations. It is an inovative opportunity for students to study tourism from an insider's perspective.

Students assist CVB staff in telemarketing, observe committee functions, and act as tour guides for visiting journalists, travel agents and tour operators.

In addition, the students act as liaisons to local hotels and attractions as well as monitor the international tour package program.

The performance of the students is evaluated by Julio Rive, Hospitality Instructor. "Forty percent of the final course grade and cooperative education credits depend on successful completion of the program," Rive said.

Tour and Travel Program Manager Ken Foster directs the program for the Convention and Visitors Bureau. "We are very excited about the potential of the internship program," Foster commented.

"We would like to see it become a permanent program. The students are helping us accomplish things we normally just couldn't do with a limited staff and the growing demand for our services," Foster added.

The first PBJC students selected as interns are Jennifer Yates, Guy Hinkley and Evelyn Castro. They expressed serious career interests in travel and tourism.

Special Board Meeting

A special Board of Trustees Meeting was held Thursday, March 31. The main item of business was consideration of bids for construction of the first classroom building at South Center.

In other business, the Board also approved an agreement with FAU that allows PBJC to use their Gymnasium for commencement. The ceremonies are scheduled for 8 p.m., May 4, 1988. C. Spencer Pompey will be the commencement speaker.

Baseball Team Is Tops

According to a Junior College poll, the PBJC Pacers Baseball Team is ranked number one in Florida and number three in the nation. The Pacers finished with a 37 and 11 season.

Notably, three team members have accepted scholarships at a state university or are being recruited.

Juan Flores is known as one of the top catcher prospects in the nation and has already signed a scholarship agreement with the University of Miami.

Second baseman Rayner Manso is currently being recruited by major colleges as a result of his record. He has stolen 24 bases and has a .340 batting average.

Pitcher Gar Finnvold has compiled an 10-1 record so far this year. He has accepted a scholarship to pitch for Florida State University.

Coach Randy Gailey said of his team, "The team has had a really good year and we are looking forward to ending it with a bang. We still have a chance to win the state competition!"

South Awards (Cont'd from P 1)

A special presentation was made by PTK President, Colleen Barbie. She officially turned over the National Chapter Milestone Award.

In addition, Barbie thanked Dr. Haynes, Dean Jim Tanner, Dr. Harris McGirt, Dr. Margaret Maney, and Beverly Raznoff for their support of the PTK organization.

The category of Academic Recognition for Creative Writing was a new award which was shared by Pamela Stettler and Michael Warshal.

The first International Student Scholarship was given to Sylviane Jordan. She has completed 31 credit hours with a 3.90 grade point average.

Approximately 40 students were honored in 21 categories for their various achievements.

Men's Basketball Ranked Fifth

The PBJC Men's Basketball Team finished the season ranking fifth in Florida in the Junior College Athletic Association Poll.

The Pacers played a total of 33 games, with 17 victories and 16 losses.

Player Earl Barnett was fifth rebounder in the nation, our leading scorer, and All Southern Conference.

This was a new and improved season for the men's basketball team. Assistant Coach Flip Peavler worked with the players on and off the court with great results.

Last year, many strong players were lost because academic requirements were not being fulfilled. Peavler made sure this year that the men hit the books as hard as they hit the court and the effort paid off.

According to Head Coach Scott Pospichal, "We have a lot to be thankful for this year. We have a great group of kids who won a lot of basketball games and caused much excitement around here. All 12 of them made their grades and we are really happy about that."

"Next year we will come back with even more excitement and win even more games," Pospichal said.

Conference Title For Softball

The PBJC Softball Team has won the Conference championship for the tenth year. At the end of conference play, the team was 15 and 5.

Three players were voted to the All Conference Team. They were Gloria Nixson, Kim Robinson, and Kristen Halunen.

According the John Anderson, Softball Coach, the team will be playing in the state championship in Fort Myers later this month. If the team wins, they will go to Alabama in May to compete in the national championship.

Tennis Teams Win State

For the second consecutive year, the PBJC Pacers Men's Tennis Team won the team title in the Florida Junior College Athletic Association's State Tennis Tournament. The tournament was held on Wednesday, April 6 at Miami Dade North Community College.

The Pacers, with 21 victories and no losses, are ranked number one in the nation, according to the National Junior College Athletic Association. At the State Tournament, the team won five of the six singles titles and one doubles title.

The National Championship will be held May 23-27 at Tyler Community College, located in Tyler, Texas. The Pacer Tennis Team finished ninth in the nation last year.

Also in recent state competition, the women's tennis team placed first.

The number one player is Liz Gibson who will be transferring to FIU. The number two and three players are identical twins, Kristen and Kim Wattenberger.

Women's Basketball Second

This was the first year for a women's basketball team at PBJC and they finished the season with a record of 20 and 6. They placed third in the Conference and second in the State.

Player Nancy Marshall made First Team in the Southern Conference, Most Valuable Player in the Southern Conference, all State Tournament Team and All Regional Eight Team. In addition, Pam Morrison, Rosemary McDonald, and Annette Jenkins made All Conference.

"Because it was our first year, we had a lot of great memories and we had a lot of ups and downs but we made it," Coach Sally Smith reflected. "I would like to thank each player for staying with the team."

Grand Buffet A Grand Display

PBJC staff and invited guests were treated to a Grand Buffet marking the finale of the Garde Manger and Dining Room Management courses, Tuesday, April 12 in the PBJC President's Dining Room.

Executive Chef for the event, Barry Gair said that many of the apprentices and students put in countless hours of their free time to prepare the food displays. Approximately 20 Garde Manger students worked together under the supervision of Gair to prepare painstaking gourmet delights.

Munro Gaultney, Hospitality Management faculty member, thanked hotel/motel association guests and chefs from the local luxury hotels, resorts and restaurants who attended the luncheon, along with food critics and reporters from the local media.

Students from the Dining Room Management Class were supervised by Director of Service Jennifer Yates. The students were responsible for seating and serving the guests and clearing the tables.

Julio Rive, Hospitality Management Program Manager, thanked the students and guests for their cooperation in the event. He said that the preparation is one part of the event, but that the food must still be served properly.

Board Meets At North Campus

The April 20 Board of Trustees Meeting was held at North Campus.

In appearances before the Board, four student groups were recognized by Hamid Faquire, Athletic Director, for outstanding achievements during the 1987-88 Academic year.

Susan Thompson, Central Campus advisor for DECA, said that Distributive Education students received one-third of all first place awards in recent State Competition. These state winners will be participating in National Competition to be held in Salt Lake City.

Allen Hamlin, Central Advisor for Phi Theta Kappa, shared the National Photo Award that the Chapter had recently won for their photo, "Blessings of Liberty."

Another National Award was won by the South Campus Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa. Beverly Raznoff, Chapter Advisor, presented the National Chapter Milestone Award.

Recognition was given to the PBJC Men's and Women's Tennis Teams. They successfully captured State Titles and are on their way to National Competition.

The Board of Trustees heard two presentations on College programs.

First, they received a review of SOLAR which is a computerized student recruitment information system. The program contains data on all Florida Colleges and Universities and is available to high school students seeking college enrollment information.

Pugh (Cont'd from P 1)

"Mr. Pugh suffered in silence for two years which requires an enormous amount of courage," added Dr. Eissey. "He was a very loyal member of the faculty for 22 years and I shall miss him very much."

Mr Pugh made history come alive for his students. He often dressed up in costumes which reflected the historical period that was being discussed in class.

He was very patriotic and usually wore the red, white, and blue colors representing the United States. His ties often displayed a historical motif.

According to Celeste Beck, Division Chair, he was an inspiration to his students.

"Mr. Pugh wanted everyone to be proud to be an American," she said. "He tried to instill the love of country through study of the United States Constitution."

"He worked to develop critical thinking in students by requiring them to do research for themselves, rather that just providing information to them," Beck added.

Mr. Pugh was instrumental in bringing many public figures to PBJC including President Ronald Reagan. He also coordinated Candidate's Day every year. During the event, local, state and national politicians engaged in debates and presentations to inform the students who attended.

He also displayed great interest in adventure and lived life to the fullest. In just the past year, Mr. Pugh completed 300 miles of the trail to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the Northwest Ordinance.

This was a repeat of his 850-mile journey in 1937 to honor the 150th Anniversary of the Ordinance. At age 20, he was a member of the group that retraced the trail of the first colonists to the Northwest Territory.

Community College Week

April 26 through May 3 has been proclaimed Florida Community College Week by Governor Bob Martinez. The Week will conclude with the annual Community College Day on May 3.

The event is sponsored annually by the Florida Association of Community Colleges (FACC) to highlight the programs of the 28 Florida community and junior colleges.

"The Florida community colleges have become the fifth largest system in the nation," Martinez said, "and have served as a model for higher education planning." He added that the Florida community colleges "serve over 700,000 students every year and are integral to Florida's future."

"We have a great system of community colleges," said FACC President Leo Diaz, "and we think that we really are where Florida's future begins."

Diaz added, "About 65 percent of all Florida university students begin their studies at one of the 28 Florida community colleges, so we are the major starting point in higher education for thousands of Florida residents every year."

The Board also heard an update of North Campus Academic Programs by Dr. Dan Terhune, Dean of Instruction. He emphasized that the primary goal for the North Campus is Academic Excellence.

The achievements of the North Campus Business Students were presented by Joan Holcomb. The group won several State Awards including two first place awards.

The success of the North Campus Debate Team in winning the State Debate Competition was also highlighted.

Freddie Jefferson, Division Chair, spoke on the focus of "Writing Across The Curriculum." Several methods of improving the writing and communication skills of students are currently in use by North Campus classes.

A report on three new vocational programs on the North Campus was given by Allan Gerson, Division Chair. A Respiratory Care Program, A Law Library for the Legal Assistant Program, and Turf Grass Management Program are all scheduled to begin next year. It is unique that all three programs are being funded by partnerships with business and industry.

In new business before the Board, it was announced that Dr. John Morack has been hired as Construction Manager for the Performing Arts Center. He comes to PBJC from his past position with Florida Atlantic University.

The Meeting ended with an announcement that the Pacesetters raised $8,000 at the recent Golf Tournament in Palm Beach.

A special Student Art Show and Reception was held prior to the Board Meeting. Alessandra Gieffers, Art Instructor; and Freddie Jefferson, Division Chair; coordinated the event.

Over 200 paintings, drawings, photographs, sculptures, designs, and other assorted works of art were on display in the Burt Reynolds Student Center.

Art students greeted the several hundred visitors who attended the art show. In addition, PBJC students provided music for the event.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:
Volume X, Number 19 May 2, 1988

National Nursing Week

National Nursing Week has been designated as May 2-6. Nursing Day will be officially celebrated on Friday, May 6.

"For Nursing Week and in recognition of Nursing Day, medical professionals and employers show their appreciation to the nursing staff. Hospitals also encourage others within the staff, as well as the public, to consider nursing as a career through planned events for Nursing Week," said Betty Morgan, Palm Beach Junior College Nursing Program Manager.

The Nursing Program at PBJC offers the student preparation for one of the country's most respected professions. Over 2,000 nurses have successfully completed the Nursing Program at the College. Many of these former students have remained in the area and are making outstanding contributions to the community.

The 1988 Winter Term Commencement Ceremony will be held on Wednesday, May 4, 8:00 p.m. The location is the Florida Atlantic University Gymnasium in Boca Raton.

The featured speaker will be C. Spencer Pompey, a local historian of black culture. During the Commencement Ceremony, Pompey will be named Honorary Director of Black Historical Archives for Palm Beach Junior College.

The PBJC graduating nursing class recently took the National Registered Nurse Licensing Examination. Of the 20 students who took the test, 19 passed, and they scored well above the state average scores. The state mean score was 1,954; the PBJC students achieved a mean score of 2,131.

"We are very proud of our nurses. I feel that both the staff and the individuals worked hard and should be acknowledged," Morgan commented.

"Our faculty is looking forward to continuing the outstanding showing of the PBJC nurses. We are already taking applications and recruiting new students at local high schools and through our offices."

There is a nationwide shortage of nurses. Because of this, Morgan pointed out, nurses are currently enjoying increased benefits and job security. The College held a Nursing Career Day in March, and from the turnout, Morgan said it appears that hospitals are going out of their way to attract and retain a strong nursing staff.

The Department of Nursing at PBJC is accredited by the Florida State Board of Nursing. For more information, please call Betty Morgan at 8092.

The students who were honored as Charter Members were Georgette Louis, Caterina Sperduti, Julie A. Parkinson, Violette K. Pastuszak, and Cindy A. Wagner.

The honor society's purposes are to honor students who are enrolled or have completed Spanish II and who have attained excellence in the study of Spanish and in the knowledge of the literature and culture of Spanish-speaking cultures, to encourage a greater interest and understanding of Hispanic cultures among college students, and to foster friendly relations and mutal respect between Spanish-speaking and English-speaking peoples.

Roundup Goes Indoors

Friends and fellow employees gathered in the Central Campus gymnasium on May 4 to bid retirees farewell and applaud those who have been with the College five, 10, 15, 20, 30, and finally, Watson leading the pack with 40 years.

This year, there were a few changes in the program. The employees avoided the sunshine, ants, and the tight cafeteria space of roundups past.

Chef Apprentice Program Coordinator Munro Gaultney and our own students prepared and served the delicious food.

Retirees Barbara J. Bartels,, Donald Busselle, Alice P. Carlisle, Wiley C. Douglass, Charles G. Graham, William C. Hayes, Robert C. Moss, John W. Platt, Delores Seemayer, and Sara C. Smith were recognized during the program.

Some retirees had a few famous last words. Alice Carlisle said that she missed everybody.

Wiley Douglass said, "I have enjoyed my 24 years here at the Junior College. I have met many wonderful people, and a lot of wonderful women that I could have loved. I'm sorry that I didn't get around to it."

Bob Moss spoke of his vast experience in changing offices and titles. John Platt recollected his first impression of the College in 1958. Delores Seemayer bid her farewell by thanking Dr. Erling and John Schmiederer and saying that she wished she could stay with PBJC for 21 more years!

Dr. Eissey said, "We need to constantly recognize the tremendous amount of service that these people have rendered to literally thousands of students through this institution."

Commencement Ceremonies

During Winter Term Commencement on May 4, over 500 PBJC graduates received diplomas. The ceremonies were held at the Florida Atlantic University Gymnasium in Boca Raton.

The commencement speaker was C. Spencer Pompey, a local historian of Black culture. Pompey served as an educator and administrator in Palm Beach County Schools for 40 years.

In his comments to the graduates, Pompey focused on the need to make a difference as political citizens.

He said, "Participation in the elective process is not only a right but it is a responsibility." He conveyed the need to register to vote and then to actually vote.

According to Pompey, it is the age group of 18-30 who are most apathetic about voting. He said the apathy is appalling.

"You are the most intelligent and well-trained among us," Pompey said. "Yours is the most important vote."

He closed in saying, "You have received a fine start at PBJC. You must use this as just the beginning of your educational journey."

In recognition of Pompey's achievements and his involvement with the College, Dr. Edward M. Eissey presented a Board Resolution that proclaimed C. Spencer Pompey as Honorary Director of Black Historical Archives of PBJC.

Eissey commended the graduates for their achievements. He also recognized the sacrificies and support of the families of the graduates.

Nursing Recruitment

In an effort to recruit prospective nursing students, PBJC nursing instructors recently visited area high schools.

Alma Harrell, Central Campus nursing faculty member, participated in Career Expo '88 at Glades Central High School on April 13. Together with student nurses Geraldine Bailey and David Bacalleo, more than 150 student blood pressure readings were registered. Many of the students with borderline hypertension received diet counseling and were referred to physicians.

A Career Day for Glades area high school seniors was also held at the PBJC Glades Center on April 22.

Harrell spoke to practical nursing students from the West Technical Education Center on the LPN to RN Transitional Program offered at the College. Hilda Copen, a registered nurse and a 1987 graduate of the Transitional Program, assisted in the presentation. Harrell and the two students accompanying her are alumni from the Glades area.

At an annual Career Night held April 27 at Jupiter High School, Dr. Noreen Poole and Dr. Judy Campbell of the nursing faculty spoke to over 500 students and parents. John Jenkins, PBJC North Counselor, was also present.

During the event, they presented two recruitment videos, distributed PBJC buttons, and signed up interested students for personal counseling. According to Poole and Campbell, the Jupiter students were very receptive.

A final stop for nursing recruitment is planned for May 11 when Betty Morgan, Nursing Program Manager, and Instructor Evelyn Merkle are slated to appear at Career Day for Forest Hill High School.

He was also a former Vice President with Broward Community College and he received his Ph.D from the University of Pittsburgh.

As for the progress of the Kravis Center, some changes have been made in the backstage areas, but construction is still planned to begin on the project in December.

Welcome Aboard Dr. Morack!

President's Scholar Awards

A total of 99 students from 21 area high schools accepted President's Scholar Awards at an informal ceremony on Tuesday, May 17 in the SAC Lounge on Central Campus. There was standing room only by the time the program began at 7 p.m.

Two staff members, Dr. Frank Adams and Nancy Blomeke, participated in the event as proud parents of scholarship recipients Kimberly Adams and Michele Blomeke.

Financial Aid Director Marvita Davis said that this was the largest group of President's Scholars she could recall. Students are eligible for the award if they maintain a 3.0 grade point average or higher, and/or are part of the top 10 percent of their graduating class.

Dr. Eissey presents a President's Scholar Award to Michele Blomeke.

Institute Presents Awards

The PBJC Institute of Government held a Recognition and Awards Program last Wednesday. The event was an opportunity to praise the accomplishments of government leaders as well as participants in training programs sponsored by the Institute.

Dr. Eissey began the ceremony by saying "I applaud your efforts in making the Institute of Government so successful. The College plans to do everything possible to support the continuation of these training programs."

Kim Ardila-Morgan, Director of the Institute of Government, introduced members of the Steering Committee.

The Steering Committee includes Otis Harvey, Gail Nelson, Arlene McClurg, Peter Cheney, Allen Cole, George Frost, Sandra Kirland, Patrick Miller, Roland Williams, John Sluth, Paul Steinbrenner, William Underwood, and Shirley Vallan.

This group of community leaders meets once a month and directs the programs offered by the Institute. In the past year, programs in Secretarial Development, Professional Development, and Management Development were provided to employees of the various governments in Palm Beach County.

As part of the Recognition Ceremony, 17 persons received awards for completing one of the three training programs.

Morgan said that the Institute of Government has made a difference in professional-training opportunities in the county. She praised the contributions of the Steering Committee as well as other supporting organizations and individuals.

In her closing remarks she said, "It is important to have professionalism in our governments. We must continue to strive for this through our involvement with the Institute of Government."

Fast Break For Minority Students

The Palm Beach Junior College Fast Break Program for Minority Students begins June 20 and concludes August 1. Registration is underway for minority high school graduates in Palm Beach County. Students may be eligible for free tuition, books, placement tests, and tutors for the Summer Term at PBJC North, South and Central Campuses.

The Fast Break Program will not require attendance at PBJC in the Fall Term, although it is aimed at increasing the minority enrollment ratio.

The courses are designed for the minority student who desires college prep instruction and college-level skills. Placement tests determine if the student will be attending college level or college preparatory classes.

PBJC counselor and recruiter Debra McCray described the students' reaction to the program as very positive. "We were very successful last year, and we look forward to working with new students this summer," she added.

For registration information, contact Debra McCray at 8054.

Union Negotiations Begin

Monday, May 16, the United Faculty of Palm Beach County and Administration for the College opened negotiations.

The Union Negotiating Team presented five items for negotiation. A proposal concerning salary increases will be forthcoming after the State Legislature completes appropriations approvals for the College.

The Administration Negotiating Team did not present any proposals during the opening session. They also preferred to delay any discussion of the Union proposals until the level of College funding is definite.

Both sides agreed that the next negotiating session will be scheduled following the close of the 1988 Legislative Session.

Special Olympics Torch Run

The Student Government Association (SGA) of PBJC Central has undertaken the project of supporting the Law Enforcement Torch Run for Special Olympics.

The PBJC Criminal Justice Team is composed of runners who are all members of the Criminal Justice faculty. They are: Team Captain Joe Macy, Max Faquir, Fred VanDusen, Harry Findeison, and John Kish. They will run the Lake Worth stretch on May 31 at 2 p.m. to raise funds for the Special Olympics event.

The SGA is asking all faculty, staff and students to donate any amount to support their efforts, and to aid in this matter. A collection box will be placed in the Central Cafeteria. Donations can be either cash or a check made out to PBJC Student Government Association. The collection begins immediately and ends on May 31.

In addition, the SGA plans to stop by classrooms and offices to seek your help. Please be generous in support of the PBJC Criminal Justice Team.

At the end of the fund raising effort, one check will be written to the Special Olympics on behalf of all PBJC supporters. The donation will be presented by our Team Captain Joe Macy during the conclusion of the Torch Run planned for June 3 at the University of South Florida in Tampa.

This is a great opportunity for PBJC faculty, staff and students to share and be proud of helping a noble cause. The SGA thanks you for your support and involvement.

Please call 8151 for more information or if you wish to make a donation.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:
Volume X, Number 23 June 6, 1988

Board Approves Quarter Mill Levy

During the May 17 Board Meeting, Trustees approved seeking a referendum for a quarter-mill levy. The request for a local ad valorem tax for five years would be placed on the November 8 General Election Ballot. The referendum is contingent on approval of a bill by the State Legislature.

The quarter-mill levy is expected to collect about $9 million per year, or about $45 million over the five years. This will provide funds to complete half the construction needs of the College.

Also of major interest was the discussion on changing the name of the College. The new name would be Palm Beach Community College.

Many of the residents moving into the area have felt that the designation of Junior conveys lack of completion or something less than quality. Comments have also been received that the name is old-fashioned and does not convey the scope of the College.

PBJC is truly a community college. College programs and services are open to all residents. In addition, the College provides training for police, firefighters, paramedics and many other services vital to the quality of life in the area.

Last year, over 150,000 people utilized the services of the College. They took classes, participated in workshops, attended performances at the Duncan Theatre, or were present at community meetings on the various campuses.

Of the 28 Community Colleges in Florida only five have retained the Junior College name.

Literary Forum '88

North Campus was the site of a special literary event on May 18 and 19. A book fair, special seminars, a reception and luncheon honored South Florida Authors and provided valuable information to aspiring writers.

Alice Zacherl, Director of the North Campus Library, gave the opening remarks for the event. She said, "The Forum is a small part of the mission of Palm Beach Junior College in providing educational opportunities and unique programs for the community."

Zacherl added that the library is a culture keeper, keeping a diary of the human race and giving us a vision of the future.

Local authors were panelists for two seminars: "Getting Published" and "Developing Plot." Guidelines for commercial writing success were shared with the audience and individual questions were answered.

In the next few weeks, comments regarding the name change will be received. Full discussion and the final decision on the name will be made at the June 15 Board Meeting.

In other business, the Board approved the Budget for the 1989 Fiscal Year.

Personnel costs, the largest part of the budget, take 80 percent of anticipated revenues. Another 18 percent goes for recurring expenses and two percent is spent on capital outlay.

There are three major sources of revenue for the total proposed budget of $26,795,990. Seventy percent comes from State appropriations. Student fees provide 27 percent and three percent comes from other sources.

In special appearances before the Board, a sabbatical leave report was given by Jim Houser, a member of the Art Faculty. He spent the leave preparing a video on perspective in drawing and painting.

Dr. Eissey concluded the Meeting with an announcement that the Women's Tennis Team is doing very well in national competition for community colleges. The Men's Tennis Team will begin national competition on Saturday in Dallas, Texas.

The next Board Meeting will be held June 15.

Edwin V. Pugh Scholarship

Contributions are being accepted for the Edwin V. Pugh Scholarship Fund. Scholarships will be awarded to students in the fields of History and Political Science. Pugh was a faculty member of the Division IV Education and Social Science on Central Campus. We urge all who can to contribute to this fund. Checks are to be made out to Palm Beach Junior College and earmarked for the Edwin V. Pugh Scholarship. Please deposit checks at the Cashier's Office. ...Celeste Beck

Literary (Cont'd from P 1)

Activities climaxed on Thursday with the Authors' Luncheon at PGA Holiday Inn where 22 local writers were honored before a crowd of 150 people.

The guest speaker, David Kaufelt, captivated the audience with a 'behind the story' account of the writing of his popular novel, "American Tropic."

Zacherl stated, "This is what started it all. We wanted to create an environment where students, patrons and the community could get acquainted with the wealth of literary talent in the County."

She also said the overwhelming response this year only foreshadows the '89 Forum.

Among the notable authors present were: Sidney Clary, Sarah Clemens, Bessie Dubois, Edith Delatush, Charles DeLuca, Barbara Gibson, C. Colburn Hardy, Judge James Knott, Sharon Komlos, Mary Linehan, Vincent Miranda, Roxanne Pulitzer, Dr. Barry Russal, Jacqueline Wall, Jim Warnke, and Donald Wenberg.

Enrollment Continues To Jump

Spring Term enrollment has increased to its highest point ever, climbing 8.4 percent in credit and non-credit student enrollment over last year, reaching 6,789 as opposed to last year's 6,263.

Student semester hours jumped from 21,753.3 in 1987 to 23,303.8, an increase of 1,550.5 hours. The comparison of figures from May 12, 1987 to May 11, 1988 shows increases in credit-seeking student enrollment. District-wide, the College increased credit enrollment by 9.34 percent.

The Glades Campus had an increase of 37.86 percent in credit students, while North Campus enrollment jumped 15.92 percent. The South Campus increased by seven percent, and Central Campus by 4.91 percent.

Project Literacy Tutors Still Needed

Volunteers to serve as tutors for the Project Literacy Program are still badly needed. Tutors are matched with people who need help with basic reading skills.

The Program is part of a national campaign to teach adults how to read. It is a program which really can make a difference in the lives of other people.

Locally, Project Literacy is sponsored by PBJC, the Palm Beach County School Board, the Private Industry Council, and the Palm Beach County Library.

A choice of two training classes for tutor volunteers will be offered in June. On PBJC North Campus, the class will be held June 8-10 from 6-9:30 p.m. On PBJC Central Campus, the class is scheduled June 21-23 from 6-9:30 p.m.

The nationally-recognized Laubach Method will be used as the basis for training. The class focuses on a one-to-one approach for teaching reading to adults.

Any person interested in volunteering as a tutor should register for the class now. For more information, call 8159.

Business/Education Awards

The Annual Palm Beach Junior College Business/Education Partnership Awards will be held on Friday, June 17 at the Breakers Beach Club in Palm Beach.

The featured speaker will be William Howden, Vice-President of Community Relations at Pratt & Whitney.

Nominees in the Business Category include Don Carter's All-Star Lanes, Centel Cable Television Company, Jonathan's Landing, and Motorola. Atlantic Coast Dental Research Clinic and the Palm Beach County Association of Chiefs of Police are the organizations which have been nominated in the Association Category.

Each year the winner of the Award is selected for their assistance to PBJC students in job opportunities through co-op, internships, full-time and part-time work programs, as well as support in the form of human services and activities for the advancement of PBJC. Support may be in the form of financial aid for student scholarships, stipends, cash grants, and equipment donations for instructional or general use.

In addition, a business may be considered for an award based on activities advocating the College and its educational programs in a political situation on a local, state, or national level. These elements, combined with the historical effort of continued support of PBJC, make up the criteria for selecting the recipient.

Nominations are made by the College administration, faculty, and staff. The nominees are then reviewed by a selection committee consisting of representatives from the local business community who choose the award recipients based on their contributions to the College.

Dan Terhune

Terhune Named South Provost

Dr. Dan Terhune has been appointed South Campus Provost, replacing Dr. Margaret Maney.

Terhune returned to teach at the Glades Center, but then moved on to the South Campus. After five years as an instructor at South, he was selected as Division II Chairperson at the South Campus.

MONDAY REPORT:

PBCC Salary Increases

Salary increases for college employees have been announced. Full Time Instructional Faculty have been offered an increase of 10 percent. If approved by the Collective Bargaining Unit, the increase will be effective beginning the first day of the 1988-89 contract.

Non-teaching Collective Bargaining Unit members will receive a seven percent increase.

Other full time college employees are in line for an increase of seven percent. This increase will be effective on July 1 and will first appear on the July 20 paychecks.

As an exception, increases for grant-funded personnel are limited by the respective grants.

The State Legislature appropriated salary increases for the new fiscal year of only seven percent for full time faculty and five percent for full time non-faculty.

However, by reducing PBCC budget areas other than salaries, the College was able to allocate the necessary funds for the higher increases. Therefore, requests for additional staff, capital outlay (equipment), reclassifications and current expenses are to be curtailed for the new fiscal year.

In announcing the increases, Dr. Eissey said, "We are putting our money into the top priorities of increasing employee salaries and improving morale at PBCC."

Eissey also commended each employee for dedication to academic excellence. He said, "You are the College's most valuable resource."

New Name For Bigger Game

During the June 15 Board Meeting, Trustees approved changing the name of Palm Beach Junior College to Palm Beach Community College. The vote was 4-1.

In bringing the request before the Board, Dr. Eissey said, "I join those who want to preserve the tradition of the College, but I recommend changing the name to Palm Beach Community College."

PBJC, established in 1933, is Florida's first public community college. Over the past 55 years, it has expanded from its beginnings as a coeducational, day-student college which only emphasized coursework for university transfer. Today the College provides a broad scope of programs and services available to the whole community.

"We have to consider the fact that we really are a community college rather than just a junior college," commented Board Member Don Reed.

"PBJC is still part of our history," said Board Member Dr. Bernard Kimmel. "Changing the name does not change the history."

In other business, the Board re-elected Dr. Philip Lichtblau as Chairman and Dolly Hand as Vice Chairperson. In addition, a new time of 6 p.m. on the third Wednesday was set for monthly Board meetings.

The Trustees also heard two sabbatical leave reports. Dennis Alber, Central Campus, used his leave to complete courses at Florida Atlantic University. Mary Jane Still, North Campus, presented a study of CLAST preparation on many of the Florida Community Colleges.

There will be no Board Meeting in July.

New Respiratory Care Program Slated For Fall Term

During a press conference held Monday, June 20 at the North Campus of PBCC, it was announced that a new Respiratory Care Program would begin this fall.

Respiratory Care is a health care field that includes prevention, diagnosis, treatment, management, and rehabilitation of people with lung problems.

In Palm Beach County as well as South Florida, there is a severe shortage of properly-trained and licensed respiratory care personnel.

In partnership with the health care community, PBCC has established a two-year Associate of Science Degree Program. It is designed to provide local hospitals with high-quality, trained professionals.

The Degree Program, which must be approved by national and state licensing agencies, consists of approximately 78 credit hours of work. Technical and scientific classes are balanced with clinical practicums.

During Fall term of 1988, students may take courses to satisfy pre-admission requirements. Respiratory Care classes begin in August of 1989.

Classrooms and laboratories will be located in the Philip D. Lewis Center for Business and Industry Technology at the North Campus. The Center is scheduled to open in January of 1989.

Approximately $300,000 over the next three years has been pledged by hospitals, health care providers and businesses to fund the Program.

Initial contributors include the American Lung Association, Boca Raton Hospital, Good Samaritan Hospital, John F. Kennedy Hospital, Jonathan's Landing, Jupiter Hospital, Palm Beach Gardens Hospital and St. Mary's Hospital.

Pacesetters Appreciation Concert

The Palm Beach Community College Pacesetters will hold an Appreciation Performance for all contributors to their Australian Tour of World Expo '88. All individuals, businesses and clubs who have given support to the singing/performing group over the past year are encouraged to attend the free concert on Friday, July 15, 8:30 p.m. at the Duncan Theatre.

Members of the group include Laura Almlie, Richard C. Andreacchio, Cindy Arnold, Aggie Austin-Guyer, John Costanzo, Lora Lee Craton, Joel G. Evans, Darrin Federer, Felicia Flint, Jeff Forrester, Julio Gallo, Paulo Gallo, Heidi Harris, Darlene Johnson, Veronica Ruth Johnson, Dawn Jones, Greg Kokus, Robert LoBrutto, Tammy Annette Procino, and Vicki Shackelford.

The Pacesetters have been involved in fund raising efforts since they were notified that they were one of only 65 groups chosen from 2,000 entries nationwide and from Canada.

They have held numerous benefit concerts, car washes, fund raising dinners, a school dance and a golf tournament. The students also collected aluminum cans for recycling, and held a Valentine's Day Flower sale.

Patricia Adams-Johnson, Director of the Pacesetters, said that the donations came in small contributions, most under $100. "We knew this wasn't going to be easy, but the group worked hard and the community got behind us," she added.

The whirlwind fund raising efforts brought the group closer together. Two students, Laura Almlie and Julio Gallo, met as members of the Pacesetters. They were recently married.

The Pacesetters will be the only collegiate group from the Southeastern United States to perform at World Expo '88. The group has been scheduled to perform twice, which is considered an honor.

The Pacesetters will also give two concerts at the Brisbane College of Advanced Education. In addition, Adams-Johnson is planning to give a vocal jazz workshop at the College.

As a result of the Pacesetters audition tape, one of the Australian members of the Selection Committee has corresponded with Adams-Johnson. The relationship has developed into a cultural exchange between the PBCC group and jazz vocal group Scat from the Brisbane College of Advanced Education.

While in Australia, the Pacesetters will participate in a homestay program with the family members of the Scat singers.

The Scat group is planning a performance visit to Palm Beach Community College in September of this year.

Outstanding President

Dr. Eissey has been named one of Florida's Outstanding Presidents in the June/July issue of the Community and Junior College Journal.

The magazine recently conducted a nationwide study of Community and Junior College Presidents. Over 900 Public Community College Presidents were nominated for the national honor of being selected as Outstanding Community College Chief Executive Officer.

As a representative of Florida's Community Colleges, Eissey was selected for his ability to influence and shape behaviors consistent with excellence at Palm Beach Community College.

The national study of transformational presidents in American community colleges is conducted by the University of Texas at Austin. The results of the final report are scheduled for publication in the November 1988 Journal.

PBCC Partnership Awards Honor Three Businesses

Jonathan's Landing, Motorola and Atlantic Coast Dental Research Clinic were selected as the 1988 recipients of the Palm Beach Community College Business/Education Partnership Awards.

The annual event was held at the Breaker's Beach Club, Friday, June 17.

Representative Marian Lewis and West Palm Beach Mayor Pat Pepper-Schwab were among the 160 community leaders and PBCC guests who attended the Awards.

William B. Howden, Vice President of Community Relations at Pratt & Whitney, was the featured speaker. Howden spoke of the meaning of partnerships and collaboration between Business and Education.

Following Howden's address, Dr. Patricia Dyer introduced a video which was prepared by the Audio Visual Department and the Office of College Relations and Marketing. The presentation reviewed the basis for the selection of the winners and each nominee.

This year, there was a tie for First Place in the Business Category. Jonathan's Landing and Motorola were given awards for their support of Palm Beach Community College.

Jonathan's Landing was chosen for several reasons. It has provided part-time employment for students, participated in cooperative education programs, offered incentives to current employees to attend the College, and has contributed to the North Campus Golf Tournament-Scholarship Funds.

Richard Plowman, representative of Jonathan's Landing, has served on various advisory committees and encouraged other businesses to become involved with the growth and development of PBCC.

Motorola was selected for its unique relationship with PBCC. Many students have part-time jobs at the Motorola plant in Boynton Beach. Employees are offered incentives to take courses at PBCC, and in some cases, the College trains current employees on the actual job site.

The 1988 PBCC Business/Education Partnership Awards were held June 17 at the Breaker's Beach Club. Award recipients included (L to R): Richard Plowman, Jonathan's Landing; Scott Shamlin and Merle Gilmore, Motorola; and Dr. John Briggs, Atlantic Coast Dental Research Clinic.

In-service training was provided by Motorola for some instructors in the computer science and engineering technology areas.

Representatives of Motorola have regularly served on advisory committees and participated in the attainment of selected state grant programs.

In the Association Category of the Business/Education Partnerships Awards, Atlantic Coast Dental Research Clinic was chosen for its support of PBCC's Dental Health Program.

Atlantic Coast Dental Research Clinic has worked with the College since 1966. The Clinic provides students with patient and doctor chairside contact before graduation, and regularly employs dental health graduates.

The Clinic donated $1,000 in financial aid and emergency funds to students in addition to giving equipment, texts, supplies, and videotapes to the College. They have also provided funds for specialized recruiting purposes.

Other nominees included: Don Carter's All-Star Lanes, Centel Cable Company, and The Palm Beach County Association of Chiefs of Police.

Personnel Name Change

Over the past several years, many organizations of significant size have changed the title of "Personnel Department" to "Human Resources Department." Indeed, a recent survey I conducted revealed that a clear majority of the largest 10 Florida Community/Junior Colleges have changed from Personnel to Human Resources.

As a result, I recently obtained administrative approval to change our title to Human Resources effective July 1, 1988. ...Joseph M. Schneider, Director of Human Resources

Union Negotiations Continue

During the Monday, June 20 Collective Bargaining Session, a 10 percent increase in salary for Full Time Instructional Faculty was offered to the United Faculty. A seven percent increase was offered for non-instructional faculty.

A larger increase is recommended for teaching faculty for two reasons. First, the State recommended a larger increase for teachers. Second, data reports revealed that the average increase last year for instructors was from 2-to-3 percent less than for other PBCC personnel.

The Unit requested a 13.4 percent increase. No agreement was reached concerning this issue.

The United Faculty Team agreed that the Board Rule dealing with removal of Continuing Contract Status for faculty accepting administrative positions would go through regular Board procedures for rulemaking rather than be a part of Collective Bargaining Negotiations.

A change in Maintenance of Professional Standards for faculty was also agreed upon. The change removes the requirement that courses taken to meet these standards must have prior approval from the Divison Chair and the Vice President of Academic Affairs. It is strongly recommended in the Contract that written approval be received prior to beginning such courses.

Several other items were deferred for discussion until a later session.

As the June 27 Monday Report will be printed before the next Collective Bargaining Session which is set for Wednesday, June 22, 1988, results will be reported in the July 11 issue.

Reminder: The Monday Report Deadline is Tuesday, 3 p.m. Also, because of the Independence Day Holiday, there will be no Monday Report on July 4.

During the third session of reopened negotiations between the United Faculty and PBCC Administration, an agreement was reached concerning salary offers for the new contract.

The Collective Bargaining Contract was signed by Dr. Eissey and James E. Aldridge, Chief Negotiator for the United Faculty, on June 23, 1988. The United Faculty ratified the contract on Tuesday, July 5, 1988.

Training Partnership Is Big Success

To assist in Pratt & Whitney's (P&W) initiative to expand its space propulsion business, Palm Beach Community College has provided a specialized rocket safety training course to nearly 200 P&W employees.

The College developed the course at P&W's request and in response to specific training requirements identified by the company. The course is taught by PBCC instructors at P&W's facility in northern Palm Beach County.

Dr. Eissey visited the P&W site in July to review the results of the training program with company officials. After the visit, he said, "I am proud that PBCC has been increasingly beneficial to Pratt & Whitney, and the College is looking forward to a continued partnership."

William C. Missimer, President of Pratt & Whitney's Government Engine Business, said, "We are pleased that Palm Beach Community College was able to tailor a course to meet our specific needs."

The training program is offered through the PBCC Center for Business and Industry. The College provides specialized training programs for employees of new, expanding, or diversifying businesses in an effort to stimulate economic growth in the community.

Grant funds are made available through PBCC and the Florida Sunshine State Skills Program. Application for grant funds is through a competitive process which requires design of a training program to meet specific needs for a targeted employer.

The employer must match the grant in an amount that is equal to or greater than the grant amount. This can be in the form of dollars, personnel expenses, company trainer expenses, travel, equipment, materials, supplies, facility, or other "in-kind" services.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume X, Number 31 August 8, 1988

Fast Break Honors Students

Approximately 120 students, parents, guests, and mentors attended the 1988 Fast Break Reception. The event, which honored minority students, was held Thursday, July 28, in the President's Dining Room on Central Campus.

Initial remarks were made by Dr. Eissey and Dr. Haynes. John Jenkins, North Campus Counselor, introduced William L. McCray, Director of Articulation and University Access Services at Florida A & M University, who gave the keynote speech.

In his presentation, McCray quoted from the author Helen Steiner Rice in saying, "Life without purpose, is barren indeed. There can't be a harvest unless you plant a seed. There can't be attainment unless there is a goal. And man is but a robot unless there is a soul. If you send no ships out, no ships will come in. Unless there is a contest, nobody can win. Games can't be won unless they are played. Prayers can't be answered unless they are prayed."

He received a standing ovation for his inspirational message. In addition, he was given a plaque to mark his presence at the Fast Break Reception.

During the ceremony, Debra McCray, Central Campus Counselor, recognized the 54 students who completed Fast Break with a certificate. The students also received a bag of college essentials from the College Bookstore.

Several of the students read essays on their experiences in the Fast Break Program. They indicated that the Program had increased their self confidence in facing the challenges of college life.

First PBCC Class Graduates

The first class to graduate since the College changed its name to Palm Beach Community College participated in Commencement on August 1 at the Central Campus Gymnasium. A total of 378 students graduated with about 200 present for the ceremonies.

The Commencement Speaker was U.S. Congressman Tom Lewis who is an alumnus of PBCC. In his long career in public service, he served eight years in the Florida House of Representatives and two years in the Florida Senate. In addition, he has served for the past six years in the U.S. House of Representatives and is unopposed for election to a fourth two-year term.

Congressman Lewis' presentation centered on the changing work environment and on the opportunities available to today's graduates.

He said that more than 20 million new jobs would be created by the year 2000 and that most of the jobs would be in service industries.

"The more complex our society becomes the more important higher education becomes," Congressman Lewis reflected. "Technical and post secondary education will almost certainly be a requirement."

He also focused on education as a continuing process. He said that knowledge is as fleeting as a moment in time and that it is important to continually update training and education.

Congressman Lewis challenged the PBCC graduates by saying they are leaders. He said, "Many of the world's great inventions and ideas were formulated by people just like you. I urge you to go out and make something happen."

During the ceremonies, the Student Scholar Award of $150 for the highest grade point average was presented to Patricia Rowe DiMassino. She achieved a 4.0 grade point average in two years as a full-time student.

The winner of the Florida Atlantic University Community College Scholarship was Patricia Araujo. She will be transferring to FAU to complete her four-year degree.

Among those students graduating was Christina Mae Mossadeghi. She received her diploma from her proud father, Frank Mossadeghi, who is a faculty member on PBCC's North Campus.

PBCC student Patricia Araujo receives the FAU Community College Scholarship from Dr. Woodford Zimmerman, Director of Undergraduate Studies at FAU.

The students were complimented by PBCC Trustee Bettye King. She said, "I am so proud and inspired from what I have seen tonight. I am very proud of the students, and I hope they will keep it up and complete their program here at Palm Beach Community College."

The ceremony also included special recognition for the five high school counselors who helped to identify students for Fast Break. In addition, 20 mentors were honored with plaques commemorating their participation in the program.

Recognition was given to Mary Cannon, College Nurse; Rita Albury, Registrar's Office; Toby Smardin, Registrar's Office; and Dr. Melvin Haynes for supporting Fast Break.

Dr. Haynes presented a plaque to Debra McCray, Director of the Fast Break Program, for outstanding and distinguished service. Ann Wiggins, Fast Break student, gave McCray a special award, as well as a gift and cards from the all of the participants.

The ceremony concluded with remarks from McCray, and guests were treated to a buffet sponsored by the PBCC Student Government Association.

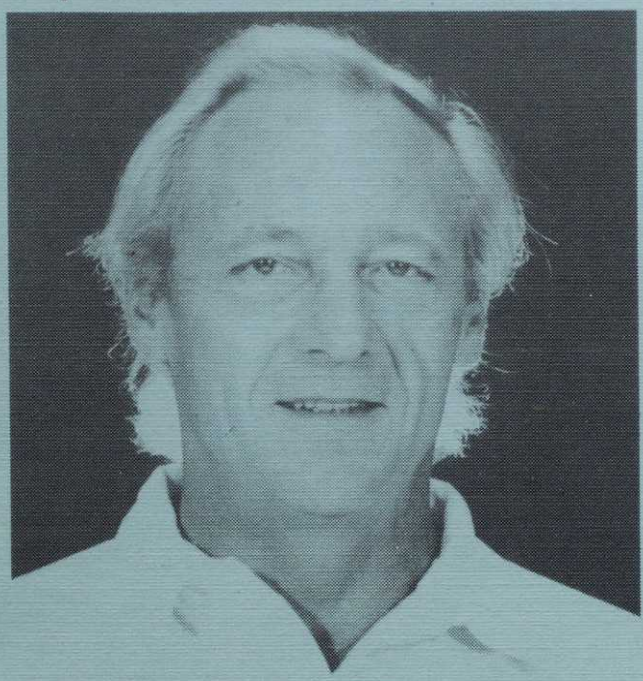
Roy Bell Scholarship



Roy Bell

A scholarship has been established in the memory of Roy E. Bell, Assistant Professor of Physical Education on Central Campus. Donations to the fund will be accepted at the Cashier's Office on all campuses.

Bell, a 30-year employee of the College, died unexpectedly on Thursday, August 11. He is survived by his wife, Alicia, who is Construction Liaison Specialist for the Office of the Vice President of Business Affairs.

During the funeral held on Monday, August 14, Dr. Eissey spoke of Bell's dedication and contributions to PBCC.

He said, "Roy Bell was one of the most loyal and supportive faculty members that Palm Beach Community College ever had. He always saw the positive and the good in others and in the College. Roy gave us several gifts, the gifts of loyalty, friendship, support and love. A vacuum has been created in our College and in our personal lives by his passing."

First Board Meeting Of Year

The PBCC Board of Trustees met on Wednesday, August 17 on Central Campus for the first time this Fiscal Year.

In regular business, the Board approved Board Rule 6Hx-18-5.50. The rule deals with the effect of promotions on continuing contracts.

Also approved was a revised contract with The Alliance, a group organized for the education, training and development of all AT&T employees who are represented by the Communications Workers of America. In the contract, PBCC agrees to provide career assessment, planning and counseling services for the group.

The Board accepted an agreement with the South Florida Fair which allows PBCC to use their parking area as a driving range for Criminal Justice training programs. The College will pay one dollar per year and will provide liability insurance coverage for the low-speed maneuvering training that will take place on that site.

Several grants were accepted by the Board. Grants included are Criminal Justice Institute, $254,000; Institute of Government, $69,800; Programs of Excellence, $23,000; Title II Computer Literacy, $20,000; and Assistance for Handicapped, $7,236.

Dr. Eissey introduced three new administrative appointments to the Board. Included were Patricia Anderson, Director of Student Affairs for North Campus; Brian Kelley, Director of the Library and Learning Resources Center on Central Campus; and Scott MacLachlan, District Registrar.

The September Board Meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, September 27, 1988 at 6:00 p.m. in Conference Room C on Central Campus.

United Way Is A Way To Care

United Way is a simple way for you as a PBCC employee to show that you care about the local community. It combines many appeals into one annual fund drive and the help you give works all year long.

Last year, PBCC employees donated $8,029 to United Way. This year, the College has set a goal of collecting $10,000. The success of the campaign depends on your commitment to support the United way through donations.

Your decision of how much to give is a very personal one. Hopefully, you will consider giving something, even if it is just a few dollars. Most of us could spare the extra money we waste on snacks...or lotto...or some other item. These funds could be put to great use in helping those persons less fortunate than we are.

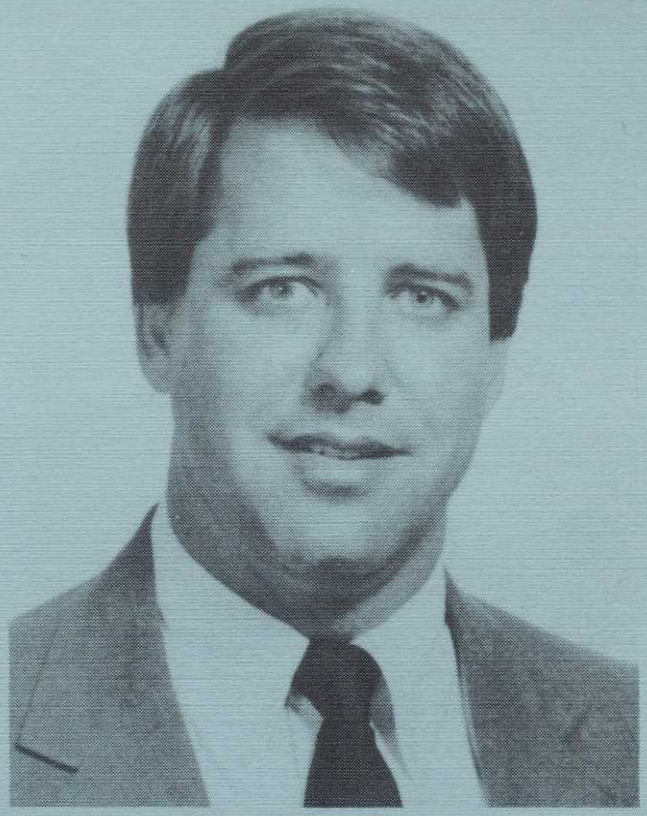
Last year, United Way contributions went to 56 human service agencies which served one out of every two residents of Palm Beach County. The people you help with your contributions are often your co-workers, your neighbors, friends, and maybe your own family. Problems and crisis seem to touch everyone, and even you may need the services of a United Way agency.

Consider your donation as a type of insurance policy, one that is there to help the people in your community and to help you, if you should ever come upon hard times.

Donations can be in the form of payroll deductions that are monthly or one time. You may also choose cash or check instead of payroll deduction. If you did not receive a card, one can be obtained by calling 8076.

If you have not already made your donation, please fill out the United Way Card and return it to College Relations and Marketing, Mail Station #25, by Thursday, August 25.

Thank you for your giving and caring spirit as together we reach this year's goal. ...Sheila E. Bertino,
PBCC 1988 United Way Coordinator



Scott MacLachlan

New Registrar Is Selected

Scott MacLachlan has been selected as the PBCC District Registrar. He replaces Charles Graham who recently retired.

For the past 13 years, MacLachlan served as the Registrar at Georgia Southern College (GSC). He was very highly recommended by the Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, Director of Admissions and the Vice President of Academic Affairs of GSC.

MacLachlan was presented the first Young Professional Award of the Georgia Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers. In September of 1987, he was selected as an Outstanding Young Man of America. In addition, he received the Merit Award for Outstanding Service from the Rotary Club of Statesboro, Georgia.

He holds a M.Ed. in Counselor Education and a B.S. Ed. from Georgia Southern College.

Weekend College registration continues through Saturday, August 27 at Central, Glades, and North Campuses.

Farewell To Judy Schiele

Judy Schiele, Director of the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center and Program Specialist for the Glades Campus, has resigned to accept a new position. She has been selected as the Coordinator for Special Events for the University of North Carolina School of Arts in Winston Salem.

In her six years with the PBCC Glades Campus, she has accomplished much. Perhaps her biggest success was to provide real name recognition for the Glades Campus. The many performances and the rental of the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center have brought in many people who were not familiar with the College. Last year, over 24,000 people came to the Center.

Another major achievement was the introduction of children's performances. Last year, 10,000 school children were present for the professional performances. This was done with the cooperation of the Doris Lane, Palm Beach County West Area School Superintendent. Without this program, many of these young people would never have the opportunity to see a live show.

The excellent programming at the Center also helped to reinforce positive attitudes about the City of Belle Glade. At a time when the City was receiving negative press coverage, the Center was responsible for attracting visitors from South and Central Florida.

Dolly Hand, PBCC Trustee and guiding force in the development of the Center, complimented the work of Schiele. Hand said, "As Director of the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center, Judy has touched many in our community in a positive way. She leaves the College with our affection, respect, and good wishes. She will be missed."

Schiele gives credit to many people for the success of the theatre. She indicated that the support of Dr. Eissey, Dr. Tate and the Board has been crucial to its success.

Judy Schiele

In addition, she thanked the faculty and staff of all the campuses who have assisted her. In particular, she gave special recognition to Glades staff members Tom Pierson, Rocky Montgomery, Gary Williams, and Teresa Mock for working with the theatre even though it was not their job. Schiele said that without their help the shows could not have happened.

She referred to Dolly Hand as a key to the success of the Center by saying, "Mrs. Hand didn't just lend her name to the building or just champion the cause to get it built. She is in the Box Office selling tickets and is excited about each performance."

Schiele also credited the Advisory Board for the Center, which is chaired by Liska Hooker. She said, "They have been the eyes and ears of the community. This group has directed the efforts to educate and entertain our community."

Of her new position, Schiele said, "This is an exciting opportunity for me, but I will miss PBCC and the Glades."

FAU Moves To North Campus

The Florida Atlantic University West Palm Beach Center, previously located on 45th Street, has temporarily relocated to PBCC's North Campus as of August 10.

The FAU facility on 45th Street has been sold, and proceeds will be used to construct new classroom and office space on the North Campus.

The FAU West Palm Beach Center will operate in the Meldon Conference Center Building until new buildings are completed. FAU classes will be held at PBCC North and Palm Beach Gardens High School.

The move of the Florida Atlantic University 45th Street Center Library to the North Campus Library has also been completed.

A circulating collection of 2,500 titles and over a hundred professional journals and serials have been integrated into the facility, and the two collections complement each other in many ways.

The FAU collection specializes in business, economics and education, while PBCC is well-rounded and supports the College's instructional program throughout all areas of the curriculum.

The merger brings to the North Library several technical indexes, such as the Business Index, Social Science Index, Moody's Survey, Psychological Abstracts, etc. Two computer terminals are available to all users that are tied into the State Library LUIS Network that opens access to the resources of the main FAU library.

Diane Kachmar is the FAU librarian based at the North Library and has been working with Alice Zacherl, North Campus librarian, on the shared resources concept. According to Zacherl, this merger heralds a new era of library service in northern Palm Beach County that will benefit the students and faculty of both institutions.

FAU moves in at North Campus. FAU staff members pictured left to right: Lois Marindal, Nancy Agnew, Wayne Hill and Jane Donahue.

Welcome Back Faculty

During the annual Faculty Breakfast held August 22, Dr. Eissey welcomed returning faculty and introduced new faculty and administrative staff.

In an update of the 1988 State Legislative session, Pat Myers said that funds were approved for the construction of a second permanent building on South Campus and for the renovation of the Fitness Center on Central Campus.

She also said that promises for the coming Legislative session were made for the approval of equipment for the South Campus Building and for remodeling of the Dental Health Lab on Central Campus.

Nancy Cherry spoke of plans for the Foundation to fund an Academic Chair Program for the major PBCC divisions.

Dr. Patricia Dyer said that the number one priority for PBCC is to improve student performance on the CLAST. She said that a special individualized study course to assist in CLAST preparation will be offered. The elective course targets students with less that a 2.5 grade point average.

Dyer also mentioned that a special Florida-Canada Institute has been approved by the State Legislature. PBCC was chosen as Florida's program exchange point.

She also indicated that the State has appropriated funds this year for Life-long Learning Programs. In addition, State funds are available for the purchase of more print and non-print materials.

Dr. Eissey ended the program by focusing on the importance of helping the student, fellow faculty members, and the community. He said it is important to create community awareness of PBCC.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume X, Number 35 September 12, 1988

Enrollment Tops 16,000

A total of 16,075 students registered for Fall term credit and non-credit courses at Palm Beach Community College. This figure represents a 15.35 percent increase over the 1987 Fall term enrollment. Last year, 13,936 students registered at PBCC for the Fall term.

The large increase is due in part to the reinstated Weekend College program. Students now have the option to take credit courses on Saturdays. Weekend College is offered at the PBCC Lake Worth, Belle Glade and Palm Beach Gardens campuses.

This year, students registered for a total of 108,208.5 credit hours. This shows an increase of 10.76 percent over last year. In Fall term of 1987, students registered for a total of 97,700.2 credit hours.

Students who may have missed Fall term registration will have an opportunity to register for an eight-week Express Term at PBCC in October. Classes are completed in eight weeks by meeting twice as often as the classes during the traditional 16-week semester.

CPI Labs New And Improved

The Center for Personalized Instruction on all four PBCC campuses now offers Florida State University PLATO capabilities to all faculty, staff and students. The Program Logic for Automated Teaching Operations (PLATO) operates as a supplement to classroom academic instruction in a variety of areas.

Students can review courses in accounting, anatomy and physiology, aviation, biology, business management, chemistry, computer science, economics, English, geography, history, mathematics, nursing, physics, political science, reading, sociology, Spanish, statistics, test preparation for ACT, SAT, and CLAST, typing, word processing and more.

Terry Shoultes, District Coordinator for Instructional Computing, says that with the addition of IBM Model 50 computers to the labs almost any instructional program or software can be converted and used for academic support.

Australian Jazz Group In Concert

The Australian Jazz Vocal-Instrumental group "SCAT!" will give a special performance at the Duncan Theatre on Monday, September 19 at 8:30 p.m. A $3 donation per person is requested.

The "SCAT!" performers are a vocal and instrumental pop-show group from the Brisbane College of Advanced Education (BCAE), Carseldine Campus.

"SCAT!" and the PBCC Pacesetters have been participating in a cultural exchange program since last spring. The "SCAT!" Director was one of the judges for World Expo's Entertainment Committee. When the Pacesetters were chosen to represent the United States, the "SCAT!" group and the Pacesetters began corresponding.

While the Pacesetters were in Australia, the "SCAT!" members invited the College singers to stay in their homes and observe their native customs and culture.

The Pacesetters returned on August 3 from a 15-day performance tour of Hawaii, Australia, and New Zealand. The group raised funds for the trip through private donations and fund-raising events within the community.

Pacesetters Director Pat Adams-Johnson said of the tour, "We represented the Humanities Department, Palm Beach Community College, the State of Florida, and the United States very well. It was a genuine cultural learning experience for all members and chaperones."

The Pacesetters are planning to host the "SCAT!" singers during their visit to the area. The 13-member group under the direction of Harlie Axford is well known in Australia, and they have previously toured the United States twice.

All PBCC faculty, staff and supporters of the Pacesetters are invited to attend the September 19 performance.

For further information about the "SCAT!" performance, call 8219.

Basketball Team Tours Denmark

The PBCC Men's Basketball Team spent three-and-a half weeks, from July 28 through August 22, touring England, Sweden, and Denmark. The cultural exchange program is part of the International Basketball Exchange, which encourages the sharing of cultures, specifically between Danish and American teams.

According to the Pacers Head Coach, Scott Pospichal, "The game of basketball is as popular in Europe as squash is in the U.S." He added that the reason the PBCC team became interested in the program was for the opportunity to experience other cultures and countries and not just to play basketball in Europe.

Funding for the trip came from community support. The team raised money for traveling and living expenses from private contributions. The players stayed in private homes and apartments as part of the exchange.

Pospichal, Assistant Coach Dave Duncan, and Trainer Lou FaVata accompanied the 12 PBCC players. The PBCC team won all 11 basketball games played on the tour.

The PBCC team members who went on the exchange were: Earl Barnett, Matt Boyce, John Fedor, Chris Hicks, Michael Jackson, Bobby Jones, David Macphee, Chris Rose, Ralph Simmerman, Gerald Smith, Danny Stubbs, and Roger Williams.

ADD Course To Be Offered

Continuing Education on Central Campus is offering a course for adults who deal with children with Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD).

For additional information, contact the Continuing Education Office on Central Campus at 8006.

CPI (Cont'd from P 1)

"The IBM Model 50 is a multi-functional work station. It has the capability of accessing PLATO, a local area network (LAN) complete with a library of commercially-published software, and can be used as a stand alone desk top computer," Shoultes said.

"When an instructor gets a sample of computer software that matches a course textbook, he or she can review the program and decide if the book and software are beneficial by using the new equipment," he added.

The CPI Lab hook-up into PLATO offers course instructors many other advantages. If several students are having difficulty with a specific lesson or area of study, the instructor can recommend lab time to improve general skills and/or customize lessons to cover the difficult area.

In addition, a student can leave a note or message on the computer regarding any problem that has been experienced during a lesson on PLATO. The instructor can check the progress of the student and pick up the notes at any time.

Tandy 1000 and Apple II computers are also available for use with a variety of commercially-published software as well as the IBM Model 50 computers which access PLATO.

Future plans for the CPI Lab include an addition of equipment which is specially designed and programmed to support the current emphasis on Writing Across the Curriculum. Plans are also being made to develop a dial-up network which would allow students with home computers to access the PLATO system through the CPI Lab by telephone.

Shoultes said that the concept of the CPI was initially developed as a Math Lab. As computers became used in more and more academic areas, the College supported a centralized lab that would be staffed and available to all students throughout the day. The labs are open from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

PBCC faculty and staff have access to the lab at no cost. Students may pay a one-time $2 fee for general use, or $16 for taking courses through the lab.

For further information contact Terry Shoultes at 8210; Peggy Adams, Central Campus, 8223; Jack Bonelli, South Campus, 6-2201; Joann Nikides, Glades Campus, 8160; or Joan Holcomb, North Campus, 622-2440, ext. 347.

PBCC Board Member Receives Prestigious Award

Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau

Dr. Philip O. Lichtblau, Chairman of the PBCC Board of Trustees, has been awarded the Harold S. Strasser, M.D., Good Samaritan Award by the Florida Medical Association (FMA). The presentation was made on September 9 at the 114th Meeting of the FMA held in Hollywood, Florida.

The state award, which was established in 1983, is presented annually to one outstanding physician. The Board of Governors of the FMA select the winner from nominations received from local chapters of the FMA.

Dr. Lichtblau was nominated by the Palm Beach County Medical Association. The group recognized his acts of humanitarianism, above the high standard of conduct normally expected of physicians and beyond the service provided to his own patients.

The group cited numerous activities that demonstrated Dr. Lichtblau's love and compassion for others. The notable accomplishments include serving as Trustee for Palm Beach Community College.

In addition, he has served as Chief of Staff at St. Mary's Hospital, Chief of Orthopedic Surgery at Good Samaritan Hospital, Advisory Committee Member of the Palm Beach Blood Bank, Orthopedic Consultant for Palm Beach Prison Health Services, and Volunteer to the District 9 Children's Medical Services which serves five Southeast Florida counties.

In the event of an emergency, never fear, Joe is here. Criminal Justice Program Manager Joe Macy is shown testing the amateur radio equipment at the Central Campus.

PBCC Ready For Emergencies

In preparation for the possibility of Hurricane Gilbert taking a turn to the north, Joe Macy, Criminal Justice Program Manager and amateur radio operator, was recently testing the equipment in the Criminal Justice area.

The Central Campus Gymnasium and CJ 109 are designated by the Red Cross as shelter areas for any natural disaster.

According to Claude Edwards, Director of Physical Plant, "The College has facilities available for emergency shelters. Red Cross volunteers operate the shelters during natural disaster situations."

Special two-meter antennas have been installed at both locations. The antennas are for use by amateur (ham) radio operators during emergency management situations. The amateur radio operators have the only outside contact when phone and power lines are inoperable.

SCAT! Visits PBCC Pacesetters

The Australian vocal/instrumental group "SCAT!" gave a benefit concert in the Duncan Theatre on Central Campus on Monday, September 19.

The students from the Brisbane College of Advanced Education, Carseldine Campus, were visiting the members of the Pacesetters during a performance tour of Florida and California.

"SCAT!" Director Harlie Axford said the members of his group have been regularly corresponding ever since the Pacesetters were invited to World Expo '88.

Axford was a member of the selection committee that reviewed 160 audition videos of choral/performing groups who were vying to appear at World Expo '88. The PBCC Pacesetters were one of the 14 groups chosen to represent the United States.

"Our students have really enjoyed their experiences with the American students. We are already looking forward to having the Pacesetters come back to Australia so we can show them more of our country," Axford said.

PBCC Pacesetters Director Pat Adams-Johnson (center) is pictured with the Australian jazz vocal group "SCAT!" who performed in concert September 19 at the Duncan Theatre.

PBCC-Motorola Center Dedicated

A ceremony to dedicate a showcase laboratory for high-technology training in robotics and automation was held Tuesday, September 27 at Palm Beach Community College. About 100 community leaders were present for the event.

Dr. Eissey and Merle Gilmore, General Manager and Vice President of Motorola Paging Products Division, cut the ribbon to celebrate the opening of the PBCC-Motorola Center for Innovation and Technology Transfer.

The creation of the laboratory has been a partnership between education and industry. It features instructional equipment valued at over $300,000 donated by Motorola. The equipment includes two work cells with IBM 7535 robots and conveyor systems from Motorola, one Seiko X-Y 2000 robot, and one Seiko RT 2000 robot.

In presenting a special recognition plaque to Scott Shamlin, Director of Manufacturing Operations of Motorola Paging Products Division, Dr. Eissey said, "This is only a small token of appreciation for what Motorola is doing for PBCC and the community."

In accepting the award, Shamlin said, "To compete in the world market, world class education is needed." He added the partnership was an important way to meet the need for state-of-the art education and training in the community.

"The program didn't happen overnight," reflected Jan Bussell, PBCC Director of Vocational Education. "It took much cooperation with local business and industry. This dedication is a benchmark and turning point for PBCC's program."

Trustees Hear Annexation Report

During the September 27 Board of Trustees Meeting, Lake Worth Planning Director John Breese presented a report on annexation of the College to the City of Lake Worth. He said the purpose of the plan is to eliminate an unincorporated pocket or "enclave."

Breese said that PBCC would gain from the annexation with an annual reduction of $3,200 in the cost of water utilities. In addition, the College would receive city police and fire protection at no cost as well as improved response time for fire and rescue services. Presently, PBCC receives these services from the County.

Trustees received the report and deferred it to staff for study.

In other business, the Board approved the final plans and specifications for the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts. The approval is contingent on staff review and on review by the State Board of Education.

The Board also approved in concept a proposal for use of a leasehold mortgage arrangement with local banks to provide funding for the construction contract of the Kravis Center. The arrangement is subject to state approval.

The newly-appointed Board Member, John C. Sansbury, was present. He attended as an ex-officio member. State cabinet approval of his appointment is expected in early October.

The next Board Meeting is scheduled for October 19 at Central Campus.

PBCC United Way Sets Record

The 1988 PBCC United Way Campaign has reached an all-time high in donations. This year, College employees generously contributed $12,645 to the United Way of Palm Beach County. This is a 57 percent increase over last year's donations.

The successful campaign is an indicator of the commitment of College employees to their community. The donations will help support 56 area human service agencies in the coming year. All contributors can be proud of their efforts to help less fortunate residents of Palm Beach County.

Anyone who still wishes to make a contribution to the United Way can do so by contacting the Office of College Relations and Marketing at 8076.

The Center emphasizes three major areas of instruction including Computer Integrated Manufacturing, Automated Office Systems Technology, and Personal Computer Applications. In addition to the new work cells and robots, equipment for hydraulics, pneumatics, and programmable controllers are housed in the renovated facility.

Bussell also credited the creation of the PBCC-Motorola Center and the establishment of an Associate Degree in Automated Manufacturing Technology to the efforts of an advisory committee.

The committee includes representatives from Motorola, IBM, Nothern Telecom, Pratt & Whitney, Florida Power and Light Company, and Solitron.

The program is designed to transfer technology from industry to students in PBCC's program. It also provides on-site customized training for business and industry. With the assistance of the Center, manufacturers can meet their objectives in the world market place, and students can meet their educational objectives.

For more information, local businesses and industries as well as prospective students are encouraged to contact the PBCC Vocational Education Office at 439-8085.

PBCC Survey

The PBCC Strategic Planning Committee is developing a plan to refine the mission, role and scope of the College. The desired outcome is to initiate a strategic planning process that will assist in utilizing resources and in meeting the needs of students and the community.

Reviewing the mission, which was the first phase in the process, included participation by representative focus groups on each campus.

The next phase will also include the involvement of PBCC faculty and staff. This will include the completion of a questionnaire to broadly assess PBCC's internal status. The questions compare PBCC to the Master Plan of the Florida State Board of Community Colleges.

The questionnaires will be distributed in the near future. Please take time to fill the form out as completely and carefully as possible. Return the completed questionnaire to Institutional Research, Mail Station # 19.

All items for the Monday Report must be received in the Office of College Relations and Marketing by Tuesday at 3:00 p.m.

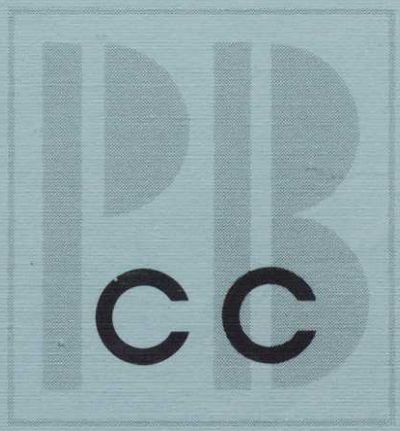
PBCC Logo Selected

After several months of consideration of possible logo designs, a new Palm Beach Community College Logo has been selected. The logo was designed by Pat Archer, Senior Instructor in the Humanities Division on Central Campus. Archer's design will be used on all official college stationery and printed materials.



Due to the many suggestions received on the ballot distributed during the August Faculty Breakfast, the search for a suitable logo was reopened. Archer, just one of PBCC's many talented faculty members, came to the rescue with the design that was eventually selected.

Stationery and business cards for the College will be standardized with only one choice of design. No individual designs will be printed. Only the department, address and the telephone number will be personalized. The Vice Presidents and the Campus Provosts will determine which offices qualify for personalized stationery.

All supplies of PBJC stationery must be used before new stationery and printed items are ordered.

Legislative Appreciation Dinner

The Annual Legislative Appreciation Dinner was held on October 11 at the Executive Club. The event honored Palm Beach County's Legislators for their contributions on behalf of PBCC.

Legislators in attendance were Don Childers, Carol Hanson, Marian Lewis, Ray Liberti, and Steve Press. Also attending were several legislative assistants.

In addressing the group, Dr. Eissey said it was an honor and pleasure to share the evening with members of the local legislative delegation. He said that they have made many sacrifices in giving up their personal time to provide service to the community.

"We appreciate what you have done in the past year, especially for the funding of the South Campus facility," Dr. Eissey said. "We are going to seek your assistance again in passing a levy to fund construction for community colleges."

In discussing the needs of the College, he mentioned that the South Campus has had to turn away many students due to lack of classroom space. The lack of space will continue to increase this year since Florida Atlantic University plans to reclaim the "T" buildings that PBCC has been using for classes.

Another priority for the coming legislative session is to gain funding for the instructional equipment to furnish the first permanent classroom building on the South Campus.

A bit of history took place last week when the sign on the Allied Health Building on Central Campus was changed to Palm Beach Community College. Dr. Eissey hitched a ride on an extension ladder, and got a bird's eye view of the new sign.

PBCC ACCEPTS LANNAN GIFT

The Lannan Museum and its collection of craft and Kinetic artwork was presented to the Palm Beach Community College Foundation, Friday, Nov. 11. The museum building and the art work have a combined value of $3 million.

During a press conference at the Lannan Museum, Dr. Eissey and PBCC Foundation President Robert M. Montgomery, Jr., confirmed that the Lannan Foundation Board of Directors had voted unanimously to donate the museum and a portion of its multimillion dollar art collection to the College.

The Lannan has also contributed a sizable donation toward a $500,000 endowment, which PBCC must establish in order to cover operating costs for the newly-acquired facility.

The PBCC Foundation will officially take possession of the museum on June 30, 1989. By this time, according to terms of an agreement between PBCC and the Lannan Foundation, the $500,000 endowment must be raised.

Approximately 400 employers will be surveyed. A Needs Assessment survey will also be distributed to PBCC faculty, high school educators, and students.

So far, representatives of the business community have responded well at the coffee held at the Central Campus on Wednesday, November 9, and the North Campus on Tuesday, November 15.

CONTINUING ED 87-88 REVIEW

The Division of Continuing Education at the Central Campus recently released a report of activities for the past year. The report contained information on new and expanded non-credit programs at the College.

A new course for health care professionals, parents and teachers who care for children with Attention Deficit Disorders (ADD) was introduced in September.

Because there was capacity enrollment of the ADD course, a waiting list was developed for those who registered after the course was filled. A second ADD session is planned for Winter Term.

Through Continuing Education and the Palm Beach County Chapter of the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders, Inc., the College will also participate in the Second Annual Conference on Alzheimer's Disease on Saturday, November 19.

Plans are also being developed for PBCC to become a community training center for the American Heart Association.

In the past year, the Women's Center marked a 10-year Anniversary. The Women's Center is a non-credit program which offers counseling, support and job training for displalced homemakers in Palm Beach County.

The Continuing Education staff worked with business leaders to develop on-site training.

Classes were held for employees of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, the Boynton Beach Chamber of Commerce, and the Wellington Regional Medical Center through non-credit courses.

Another accomplishment of the Continuing Education Division at Central was the introduction of the first Governor's Summer Program titled the Summer Humanities Institute.

The College worked with area high schools to identify high-achieving students and offer a work-study program.

Students worked in a local arts-related agency on specific research projects; in return, college credit at PBCC was awarded through dual enrollment.

The Institute of Government, which a function of the Division of Continuing Education, has sponsored and cosponsored many special events in the past year.

The Institute hosted a series of Crackerbarrel Forums at various locations in the area.

The forums were held to give community leaders an opportunity to speak to guests and answer questions pertaining to current issues in government, the media, and local politics.

In addition to the new and expanded programs and services, the Central Campus Division of Continuing Education offered nearly 600 specialized non-credit courses throughout the year.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

To all Mission Review Participants:

PBCC's future will be no brighter than our vision. Your ideas and suggestions shared during the fourteen Mission Review Forums are being analyzed and will be valuable in updating PBCC's History, Philosophy, and Mission Statement. These themes for the future will be the foundation of PBCC's Strategic Plan.

I encourage each employee to complete the "Review of the College's Internal Status" survey and return to Institutional Research. Your opinions are needed.

Thanks to each of over 200 participants.

Ed Eissey

HOLIDAY FESTIVAL DEC. 20

An extraordinary event is coming soon for PBCC faculty, administrators, professional and classified employees. It is a Holiday Festival, complete with a buffet, entertainment, and a grand prize drawing.

The Festival, which is an exciting change from PBCC's past year's seasonal meetings, will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 20 from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. It will be held in the President's Dining Room on Central Campus. Weather permitting, outdoor seating is planned, but if rain prevails, other arrangements are being made.

Something very splendid is planned for the buffet. The food will be prepared by Monroe Gaultney and his students.

The entertainment is loaded with surprises and some very special give aways. The program will be short and will include a brief holiday message by Dr. Eissey.

PBCC faculty and staff are expected to attend. Personnel who are on the second and third shifts will not be required to be present.

Invitations will be mailed by Nov. 28. To ensure an accurate count for the amount of food to be prepared, it is essential that everyone RSVP by Dec. 13. Tickets/RSVP coupons will be issued by Dr. Erling's office.

Be sure to mark the date of Dec. 20 for the Holiday Festival on your calendar. It is an event you will not want to miss.

Hamid Faquir, Director of Student Activities and Athletics, was all smiles at the Annual Mayo Smith Golf Tournament, held Nov. 14 at Atlantis Country Club. The proceeds from the event support PBCC student athletic scholarships.

Ready, set, go! The College's Sixth Annual Five Mile Run and Three Mile Walk was held Saturday, Nov. 12. Approximately 300 runners and 140 walkers participated this year. The event netted $2,000 for the PBCC Beautification Program.

FIVE MILE RUN A SUCCESS

All reports indicate that the Five Mile Run, Three Mile Walk, and Children's Fun Run held Saturday, Nov. 12 were a success, according to Nancy Horvath of the PBCC Foundation Office.

Approximately 300 runners and 140 walkers participated in the event. Overall male finisher was Gordon Snaden from Clewiston with a time of 27:20. Cynthia Derringer from Coconut Creek was the overall female finisher with a time of 32:46.

Dr. Eissey discussed the benefits of receiving the Lannan Museum, and was quick to point out that, "This is another step toward making certain that Palm Beach Community College becomes the cultural center of Palm Beach County."

In acquiring the Lannan Museum, PBCC will become the owners of one of the largest craft museums in the United States.

PBCC Foundation official, Patricia Myers, who worked closely with the project said, "I have so much admiration for the Lannan collection, and this gift is the fulfillment of a dream that we shared with J. Patrick Lannan, Sr.while he was alive."

LAKE WORTH DONATES $5,000

The City of Lake Worth kicked-off PBCC's drive to raise $500,000 for the Lannan Museum endowment fund when the Lake Worth City Council unanimously voted to purchase five named chairs at the Watson B. Duncan Theatre.

"Hopefully, this donation will kick-off the endowment and spark a good deal of interest in the Lannan Museum endowment and Palm Beach Community College," Lake Worth Mayor Ralph Schenck said.

This donation constitutes the first contribution made towards the Lannan Museum endowment fund. Named seats at the Duncan Theatre are being sold for $1,000 each in an effort to meet Palm Beach Community College's commitment to raise the endowment fund by June 30, 1989.

The City of Lake Worth became a major supporter of the Lannan project and PBCC. According to PBCC President Ed Eissey,"This is the first of many contributions in support of the Lannan Museum. Several sources have indicated a desire to assist Palm Beach Community College in raising the required $500,000 endowment fund."

NOTE: HEALTH PLAN CHANGES

Premiums for the College's medical plans will be increasing by 31 percent effective January 1, 1989. Those personnel who have the single HMO Plan will not receive a premium increase because the College pays the full cost of the least costly of the available plans. That amount is also applied toward the PPO/Indemnity Plan.

The premium increase will cost the College about $105,000 for the remaining 6 months in the fiscal year or $210,000 annually.

Personnel with dependent coverage will generally have a 31 percent premium increase on their medical coverage. Exact premium amounts will be published from the Director of Human Resources. Since premium deductions are taken semi-monthly the first deduction will be taken from the December 20, 1988 paycheck.

An "open enrollment" will permit college personnel to change coverage between December 1 and December 15, 1988.

A final change will allow employees to shelter their premiums from income taxes and (in most instances) social security taxes through use of salary reduction--a technique permitted by Section 125 of the Internal Revenue Service Code.

Further details on this subject will be provided through correspondence and meetings arranged by the Human Resources Office.

NURSING PROGRAM ENDOWED

The Delray Community Hospital has donated $17,500 to Palm Beach Community College's Nursing Program. This contribution will be used for faculty nursing salaries, thus helping further expand PBCC's extensive nursing curriculum.

Delray Community Hospital has recognized the high costs of funding occupational programs, and in so doing, has dedicated themselves to assisting PBCC in its efforts to expand its nursing program. In providing this funding, Delray Community Hospital will allow nursing students to gain the necessary practical experience needed to augment their classroom and laboratory training.

Betty Morgan, Nursing Program Manager, was instrumental in obtaining the contribution. Her dedication to the PBCC Nursing Program has allowed for the department's continued growth and success.

John Schmiederer, Dean of Instruction at Central, has worked closely with this project and was happy with the outcome. "We're very pleased that Delray Community Hospital is strongly supporting PBCC's Nursing Program by funding faculty positions and providing clinical opportunities for our students in their hospital."

Over 2,000 students have successfully completed the Nursing Program at PBCC. The Nursing Department is accredited by the Florida State Board of Nursing.

SOVIET CITIZENS VISIT NORTH

The Alpha Gamma Sigma Chapter of PTK North presented Soviet citizens Sergei and Tania Nikitin in a Question and Answer session, followed by a luncheon, on Dec. 5.

The couple, trained as biochemists, are also performers, and presented Russian folk songs before an audience of about 150 at North.

The two came to PBCC North as part of a citizens diplomacy program to increase understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union.

PBCC OFFERS NEW TRAINING

Through the Florida State Board of Community Colleges Sunshine State Skills Program, PBCC is preparing a specialized Heat-Treat Training Program for engineers, mechanics, technicians, and support personnel at Pratt & Whitney.

Geoffry Hopkins, Director of Technical Training in Pratt's Government Business Division, has been working with Jan Bussell, PBCC's Director of Vocational Education, to develop the grant funded project.

Pratt & Whitney has been awarded a preliminary contract from the government to develop the thrust diverter/reverser nozzle for future government aircraft. The Heat-Treat Training Program will provide instruction to existing and new hire employees in a range of technological procedures.

Palm Beach Community College and Pratt & Whitney have been successfully developing specialized training programs for over a year. Through the cooperative training efforts, courses have been offered in areas of manufacturing technology/computer integrated manufacturing, Rocket Safety Training, and in various co-sponsored quality plus activities.

"Palm Beach Community College has enjoyed a mutually productive relationship with Pratt, and we are eager to work with other businesses and industry in Palm Beach County," said Ed Eissey, PBCC President.

Reuben Hale, Mrs. Nathan Kahn and Brian Kelley attended the exhibit opening reception in honor of Dr. Nathan Kahn at the Central Campus library on December 1.

Lake Worth Mayor Ralph Schenck is shown giving Dr. Eissey a check for $5,000 toward the Lannan Museum Endowment Fund as City Council Member Paul Strohacker looks on.

NEW DIMENSIONS PROFILE

The PBCC Institute of New Dimensions was created in 1975 as an innovative educational program for retired senior citizens. The concept originated in response to the desire of older adults to continue their education through lifelong learning, and the availability of expertise from retired professionals.

The Institute was initiated under a grant from Action to United Way Retired Volunteer Program of Palm Beach County. The College sponsored the program in 1977 through the Division of Continuing Education.

The current enrollment places the Institute of New Dimensions program as one of the largest education programs serving older adults in the United States.

Ted Kremsky, Director of New Dimensions, says, "We continue to provide intellectual stimulation and sociability in an academic setting at Palm Beach Community College."

Classes are held four afternoons per week from late October through April at two locations: PBCC Central and PBCC North.

A highly-qualified volunteer faculty offers informal, non-credit courses and lectures in psychology, biology, philosophy, literature, art, investments and a variety of other topics.

In addition to the regular class schedules listed in the IND Catalog, the program also incorporates a series of lectures titled,"Neighborhood Forums" at the Palm Beach County and Boynton Beach Library.

Members also have the option of participating in field trips throughout the season. This session, the group is planning an excursion to Everglades National Park on Jan. 20. The trips are open to members and non-members as well.

Representatives of the IND also participate in a wide range of related activities. The group has volunteered to serve as ushers at the groundbreaking of the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts at Palm Beach Community College on Jan. 12, 1989.

Each year, the group actively participates in the Senior Activities Festival held at the West Palm Beach Auditorium. This year, they are planning to again support the Festival on Feb. 21.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume X, Number 48 January 9, 1989

LEGISLATIVE PRIORITIES SET

During the December Board Meeting, PBCC Trustees approved priorities for the upcoming State Legislative Session. Key items include competitive pay, college preparatory funds and 1/2 mill for capital outlay.

To highlight these issues, four community colleges in South Florida have formed a consortium to promote mutual funding concerns. PBCC along with Broward, Florida Keys, and Miami Dade Community Colleges have developed a priority list and a strategy for legislative action.

The competitive pay issue focuses on the absence of regional cost differentials for community college employees in South Florida. In contrast, public school districts and state career service employees do receive additional funds because they work in South Florida, a high cost of living area.

Also of concern is the fact that the salaries for Palm Beach County Public School teachers are increasing at a rate faster than salaries for community college faculties. This difference is critical when both educational agencies are recruiting personnel.

Funds are also needed to support the increasing demand for college preparatory programs. Costs of these programs are higher than costs of regular classes because college preparatory students require more individualized attention. At PBCC, 47 percent of all recent high school graduates who enroll must enter a college preparatory program.

The 1/2 mill of ad valorem (property) tax is needed to meet the unfilled capital outlay needs of community colleges. If the State Legislature passes this bill, community colleges could hold local referendums to ask for voter approval of a five-year, 1/2 mill levy.

The PBCC Board of Trustees previously approved the request for 1/4 mill in local ad valorem tax, contingent on legislative approval. The election would be scheduled for 1990.

All three of the above legislative priorities represent a break from present funding methods which use formulas.

FALL TERM COMMENCEMENT

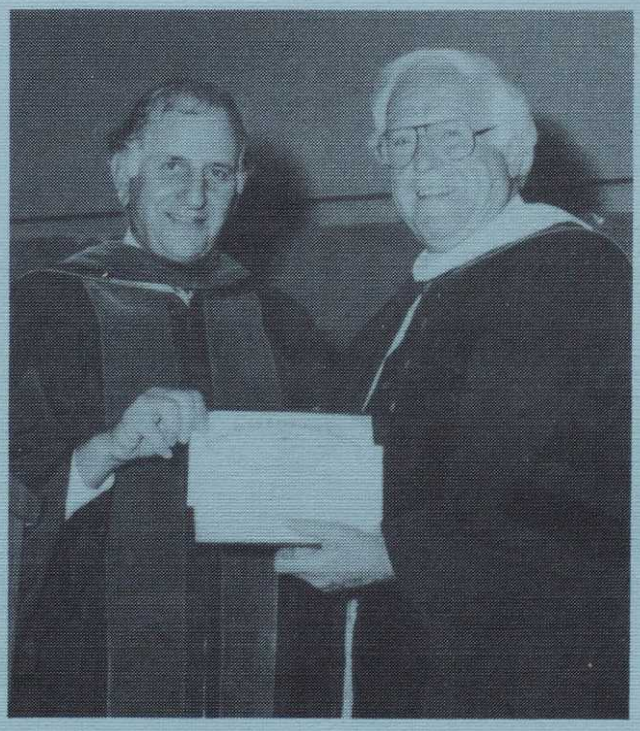
The Central Campus Gymnasium was nearly filled to capacity for the Fall Term Commencement Exercises held on Tuesday, December 20, 1988.

Following the processional, Dr. Hugh Albee and Dr. Edward M. Eissey welcomed guests. The music was provided by Stephan Benson, Sy Pryweller, and Bob Jones.

Dr. James L. Wattenbarger who is a former student, gave the commencement address. He spoke to the graduates and guests about his rewarding experiences at Palm Beach Community College and contrasted the fashions, hairstyles, values and conveniences of then and now.

Wattenbarger attended the College from 1939 to 1941. He said the scandal of the day was a poem in the Beachcomber about buzz haircuts, and a student prank which involved sneaking a rabbit into the Registrar's desk.

(Cont'd on P 2)



Dr. Eissey presents Dr. Wattenbarger an Honorary Associate in Arts Degree during Fall Term Commencement Exercises.

Legislative (Cont'd from P 1)

Passage of these items would place South Florida Community Colleges on more competitive footing with other State colleges and public school systems within the region.

PALM BEACH COMMUNITY COLLEGE

MONDAY REPORT:

Volume X, Number 50 January 23, 1989

BEN VEREEN AT PBCC

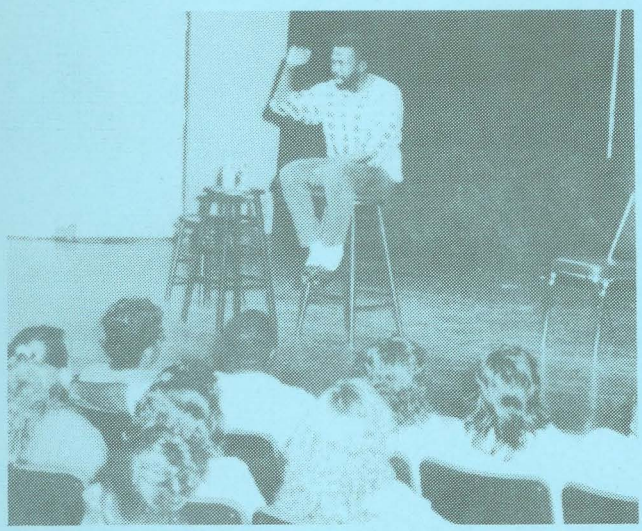
Award-winning actor Ben Vereen offered an insider's look into show business when he presented a question-and-answer session for Palm Beach Community College students and staff on the second stage of the Duncan Theatre last week.

Vereen, noted for his singing and dancing ability as well as his talents as an actor, won a Tony Award for his 1972 performance in the Broadway play, "Pippin," and is known for such other acclaimed performances as Chicken George in the Alex Haley mini-series, "Roots," and Bert Robbins in the Barbara Streisand musical hit, "Funny Girl."

Greeted by thunderous applause and a media onslaught, Vereen spoke candidly about his experiences in the entertainment industry and cautioned students about the pitfalls of the business.

"Someone once said acting is like stringing pearls. You've got to go one pearl at a time, moment to moment," said Vereen, warning theatre students not to expect immediate success.

Division of Humanities Chair Reuben Hale arranged Vereen's visit at PBCC much to the excitement of the musical-theatre students. Vereen, who turned 42 on January 10, was in town to perform his one-man concert at the Palm Hotel in West Palm Beach.



Ben Vereen speaks to PBCC students about show business at a workshop presented last week at the Duncan.

KRAVIS CENTER FESTIVITIES

The much anticipated groundbreaking ceremony for the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts was held January 12 at the PBCC Central Campus construction site.

Attended by Palm Beach Community College Trustees, administrators, faculty, State and community officials, and the public, the event marked another step in PBCC's development as the cultural center of South Florida.

Speaking before a standing-room-only crowd, Dr. Eissey was quick to point out that this project has not come easily. "It has taken a great deal of effort on the part of many," he said. "I am honored to be sharing in this glorious moment of triumph."

Once completed, this multipurpose performance and educational facility will be host to a variety of music, dance, opera, and theatre performances as well as community events.

PBCC will utilize this facility as both a performance center and teaching facility. The College will have exclusive use of the Center for approximately one-third of the total operating hours and students will receive first hand exposure in all phases of performance training including lighting, scenery, set design, costuming and theatre management.

Commissioner of Education Betty Castor was also present for the festivities. She said, "I am proud of what is happening today. Students will be the beneficiaries of this wonderful project."

The Center is slated to open in 1991 and will have a seating capacity of 2,200 with an additional 165,000 square feet of performance and rehearsal space.

Alex Dreyfoos, Chairman for the Center for the Performing Arts, called the Center a place of learning and celebration. "With optimism and hard work, we will succeed in raising the remaining funds for the project," he said.

Designed by architect Eberhard Zeidler of Toronto, Canada, the Center has been named for philanthropist Raymond F. Kravis, one of the initial supporters of the project who donated $5 million toward its construction. "The Center will become the heart of Palm Beach County's cultural life," Kravis said.
